Fields, Long and Farrell locals on Nov. 8 ballot

by GLORIA DAVIS

When the 7,947 registered voters of the Antioch Twp. go to the local polls on Tuesday, Nov. 8, after they finish voting for the federal offices on the ballot, they will be making their choice for county offices.

Three Antioch area candidates are running for county office, Jim Fields, Republican and Robert Long and Grant Farrell, both Democrats.

Fields, long-time Antioch Twp. supervisor and Dist. 4 representative to the county board, is the present county board chairman.

He and fellow Republican from Lake Villa Twp., Suzi Schmidt, are vying for the two open Dist. 4 seats against Democrats Scott Brissey and Gene Morris, both from Lake Villa Twp.

Atty. Robert Long, Democrat, is opposing incumbent States Atty. Fred Foreman for that county office. Long has already created some local political conflict by taking legal action against Mayor Ray Toft, Fields and Fred Popp, former county board member, concerning the mailing of a personal endorsement of Fields and Popp during the primary election by Toft.

He claims he is running in opposition to "the same type of cronyism found in county politics," in particular the states attorney's office.

Running as a Democrat in a traditional Republican area, Long says he is taking on this uphill battle to keep the two-party system alive.

He also wants to see the states attorney in the courtroom more and stronger legal action taken against Lake County's drunk drivers.

Grant Farrell has taken time off from his job as a journeyman plumber to wage a campaign against incumbent State Rep. Robert Churchill (Dist. 62).

He comes from a politically Democratic Lake County family having former long-time Democratic legislator Jack Barstow for a grandfather.

He has castigated Churchill and Lake County Republicans on many money spending issues, including plans for the expansion of Rte. 53.

Grass Lake Referendum

The electors of Grass Lake Grade School will be voting on a 50-cent tax rate increase for the third time.

The referendum is asking electors to raise the tax rate from $1.49 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.99.

The first referendum was defeated by a narrow margin and last April's referendum lost by only three votes.

Grass Lake has had a deficit budget for five years and the board of education and school administration hope to cut the present $22,000 deficit in the education fund with the tax rate raise.

Antioch's polling places are open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Anyone wanting to find out where they are supposed to vote can call the Antioch Village Hall, (312)395-1000 or the Antioch Twp. Hall, (312)395-3378.

Anti-mass growth, plan groups meet

On one side of Antioch a planning meeting concerning the 190 acre development on Deep Lake Rd. proposed by Al Little was taking place. On the other side of town, at the Oakland Grade School, the meeting of the Antioch Twp. Assn. which is devoted to stopping "mass" development, drew 200 people.

The speaker at the township association's meeting was Mike Graham of Libertyville, one of the leading proponents of open space in Lake County.

The mood of the meeting was that the association is not against all development and growth but is fighting to curb mass heavy housing developments that will put too much strain on the town structure and "bankrupt it."

"Growth doesn't pay for itself," says Frank Sullivan, head of the association.

During the meeting, Sullivan proposed sending a request to the Lake County Forest Preserve that it purchase 200 acres on Deep Lake Rd., (formerly known as the Bailey Horse Farm), across from

Lawsuit reads like adventure spy novel

by GLORIA DAVIS

What started as a $100,000 slander lawsuit filed by Antioch detective Ernie

Rizzo against Antioch resident Sally Wojcikiewicz has turned into a complicated Robert Ludlum-like adventure story that started in 1977 when Rizzo lost his detective license for installing domestic wire taps.

Since then the law has been changed and today, what Rizzo did would not be considered illegal. Rizzo was sentenced to public service which involved giving children boat rides on Fox Lake for two years.

In 1983, while Rizzo was working for Investigations International, he was hired to help a mother get her son back from Costa Rica where he had been taken by

County board, forest posts at stake in vote

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Of the many offices on this year's general election ballot, two in each district are for the County Board. Races in five of the six districts could see some new office holders, which could change the complexion of county politics for the next two years.

The makeup of the next board will influence the election of the next County Board chairman, now held by Jim Fields of Antioch, and the presidency of the Forest Preserve Dist. occupied by Donald Strenger of Lake Forest.

If there is an issue, it is about which candidate can promise more support for open space programs and the controlled growth of Lake County.

Only area without a contest is in Dist. 5—Libertyville, Warren and part of Vernon townships—where Republicans Andrea Moore and James Dolan are running unopposed.

Two are to be elected in each district.

Dist. 1: (West Deerfield, Deerfield and part of Vernon townships) Incumbent Republican Donald Strenger, who also serves as president of the Forest Preserve Dist., is joined on the ballot by incumbent Republican Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park and former County Board member Millicent Berliant of Deerfield, who is making a third comeback bid. Strenger has served on the board for 20 years as did his father. He has vetoed several forest preserve acquisitions, saying the forest preserve's role is to preserve natural areas, not stop development. Axelrod was the top vote getter in this district in the 1982 and 1984 county elections. She is active on a number of County Board committees. Berliant actively supports more open-space purchases. She serves on the College of Lake County board of directors.

Dist. 2: (Portions of Shields and Waukegan townships) Retirement of Tony Serdar, Waukegan, has set up a four-way race in this Democratic stronghold. Incumbent Democrat Audrey Nixon of North Chicago is joined by Democrat Debra Halas of Waukegan. They are being opposed by Republicans Henry Jeffers of Waukegan and Raymond Vukovich of Waukegan. Nixon, a community activist, is after her third term on the board. She is part owner of a North Chicago beauty salon. She wants a public referendum on bond issues for major land acquisition by the Forest Preserve Dist. Halas is a Waukegan Twp. trustee and administrative assistant to state Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago). She opposes Strenger and his vetoes of land purchases, saying more open space is needed. Vukovich, a Waukegan Twp. trustee, is an insurance representative. He opposes land purchases to stop development. Jeffers is a barber shop owner and former Waukegan alderman. He said forest preserve purchases are being made in a haphazard way.

Dist. 3: (Newport, Benton, Zion and part of Waukegan townships) Heading the GOP ticket is Lake County Republican Party Chairman Robert Neal, a member of the County Board since 1982, who also of North Barrington. Rostron has served eight years on the College of Lake County board and strongly supports open space acquisitions. Ogrin, a former County Board member, is a legal secretary in the state's attorney's office. She wants controlled land acquisitions for the county. Balen, who is retired from U.S. Steel Co. and the Lake County Highway Dept., is making his fifth bid for the County Board. He wants controlled growth to help pay for schools and municipal services.

Dist. 4: (Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and part of Avon townships) Incumbent Republican Jim Fields has served 12 years on the County Board and chairman for two years in addition to being Antioch Twp. supervisor. On the GOP ticket with him is Lake Villa Twp. activist Suzi Schmidt, former Lindenhurst recreation director. They are being challenged by Democrats Gene Morris, a 17-year resident of West Milwaukee, and nine-year resident of the same area, Scott Brissey. Schmidt, a Lake Villa Twp. trustee, defeated the popular Fred Popp in the March primary for this chance at a County Board seat. Preservation of open space, controlled zoning and the quality of the lakes that abound in this district are issues each of the candidates espouses in their own way. Schmidt supports Norman Geary, who in turn, has supported her, all of which could have a strong impact when Geary announces his candidacy for the County Board chairmanship.

Dist. 6: (Wauconda, Fremont, Cuba, Ela and parts of Libertyville and Vernon townships) With the retirement of Gerald Beyer of Wauconda, the venerable C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington heads the Republican side of the ticket. His running mate is Roberta "Bobbie" O'Reilly of Buffalo Grove, a one-time Long Grove trustee. Making a repeat challenge is Democrat Virginia Krueger of Mundelein. This district is a key one to Geary's bid for County Board chairman.

serves as Newport Twp. supervisor and as a director of the Illinois Tollway Authority. He owns Able Electronics, a business he operates from his Wadsworth home. Joining him on the GOP side of the ballot is Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan, who is completing her first term on the County Board. Opposing them are Democrats Bertha Ogrin of Waukegan, and Matthew Balen of Wadsworth, brother of Dist. 2 County Board member John Balen. Neal is criticized for wearing too many hats. He supports the leadership of Donald Strenger on the Forest Preserve and Jim Fields on the County Board. Over the years he has had his differences with supervisors like F. T. "Mike" Graham and Carol Calabrese of Libertyville, Norman Geary of Grayslake, George Bell and John Reindl of Fremont Twp. and C. Richard Anderson

There are more registered voters in Lake County this year than for the last presidential election in 1988—4,800 more. This is due to a last-minute flurry of registrations in which 32,000 names were added prior to the Oct. 11 deadline.

The number registered to vote for 1988 is slightly lower than the record 237,000 registered for the 1980 election. County Clerk Linda Hess contends the 1980 list contained names of hundreds who had moved from the county. Over the past year the voter rolls were purged by mailing a post card to those registered. If they no longer lived at the listed address and the post card returned, the name was removed from the voting list. In the coming year the rolls in the other one-half of the townships will be purged.

Based on the "cleaner" registration list and the large number of absentee ballots cast to date, Hess is predicting a turnout close to the 77 percent of the 1984 election.

Sequoits award Gooch, Beattie top '88 honors

Antioch football Coach Del Pechauer knows one thing about his upcoming second season at the helm.

"We learned a lot as a staff, will be better prepared next year than we were for this season," Pechauer said. The Sequoits fell to Fenton 19-16 as a second-half rally came up short in a season-ending North Suburban Conference game. The loss gave Pechauer, who took over from veteran mentor Steve Wapon in August, a 3-6 record for the first year.

Senior Scott Gooch, an all purpose player, was named Most Valuable Player by his teammates. "We used him as much as we could," Pechauer said.

Quarterback Rick Beattie, who was thrust into the starting position early in the season, will be back next fall. "He really improved a lot. He is more aggressive and is getting a better touch on the ball. When he makes mistakes, he does not get down on himself," Pechauer said. The Sequoits agreed and his teammates agreed, naming him most improved player.

In the finale at Bensenville, the Sequoits fell behind early. The host Bison scored first when Tony Santimmo tallied from three yards out for a 6-0 lead.

Gooch booted a 34-yard field goal in the second quarter. Brian Albrecht recovered a Fenton fumble to set up the score.

Fenton running back Larry Grant then put the Bison ahead 19-3 on touchdown runs of five and one yard in the second half.

Then the Sequoits started their rally. Glenn Graham capped a third quarter drive with a one-yard plunge. The Sequoits threatened in the fourth quarter. With less than two minutes left, Mike Yukna snarled an 11-yard pass from Beattie for a touchdown.

Antioch tried an on-side kick, Fenton recovered, but the Sequoits got the ball back.

But when they did get it back, little or no time was left. Antioch ran two plays, both for incomplete passes.

Local lawsuit

his father and grandparents. There is no U. S. extradition from Costa Rica.

Rizzo was successful in returning the boy to his mother, who in turned sued the father and grandparents for $1.5 million for abducting the boy.

According to Rizzo, during the lawsuit, he was threatened by representatives of a powerful law firm and told not to testify. He refused. The mother won the suit based a lot on Rizzo's testimony and Rizzo has had nothing but trouble with the state authorities since. Maybe that's a coincidence and maybe it isn't.

Rizzo has spent a lot of time in state and Cook and Lake County courtrooms since then.

The investigative license of Arthur Letourneau, owner of Investigations International, was revoked in 1987 based on testimony of investigators from the Ill. Dept. of Education and Regulation.

According to Rizzo, most of that testimony was based on things told them by Wojtkiewicz (reason for slander suit.)

State Judge Richard Curry overturned that revocation in August, but the detective agency's license has still not been reinstated despite the judge's ruling and several applications.

According to Steve Waters of the department of education, the re-issuance of that license has been held up because of a refusal to allow his department to see the agency's files and a reconsideration of the overturn of the license revocation set to go in front of Judge Curry late in November.

According to Rizzo, the detective agency has welcomed that department's perusal of the office and gotten no takers and cannot turn over the files because they are shredded after use and there are none.

Active files are not being turned over to protect clients barring separate court orders on each.

Rizzo, still claiming he is being hassled for refusing to withhold testimony in the $1.5 million lawsuit, says that two of the investigators from the department of education that worked on his case were two Chicago policemen that spent time in prison after being convicted of extortion years ago.

At first Waters said indeed both men had worked on Rizzo's case, claiming they were good guys gone bad, gone good, that had paid for their mistakes and have been "exemplary employees of the department."

Then he called and said he was mistaken they had not worked on Rizzo's case.

Rizzo has produced dozens of reports on the case signed by both men.

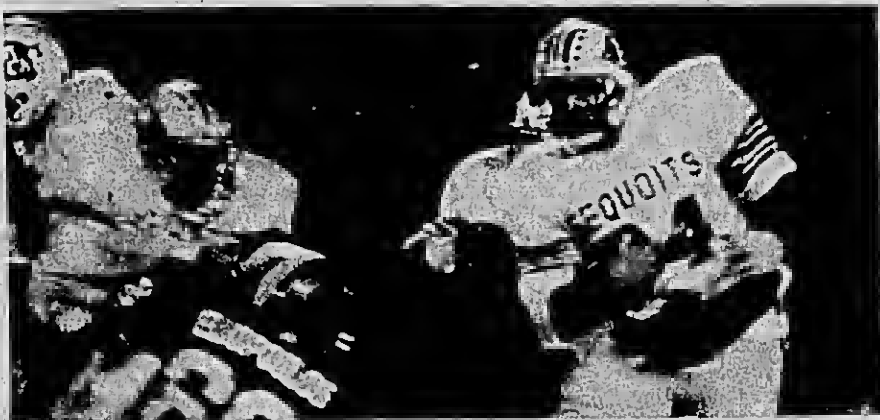

Rizzo also claims other members of Water's department and of the state's attorneys office have either resigned or been fired during the proceedings.

Waters says, indeed these people no longer have their jobs but they all resigned and those resignations have nothing to do with the Rizzo cases.

Last week, after the state had filed for nine continuances because it was not prepared to go to trial in a case it had filed charging Rizzo for operating as a detective without a license, after the a Cook County Judge heard the state's case, without even allowing a defense, he declared Rizzo not guilty of operating without a license.

Rizzo says he was doing investigation for firms that do not require a license.

Will Rizzo's luck hold out in the next two court hearing's, the reconsideration of the license loss and the slander suit? Tune in in a few weeks. Rizzo's story can be found in the latest issue of "Woman's World" magazine.

The proposed price of that acreage that the association hopes to keep as open space is $70,000.

A voice vote taken from the audience gave the association a 100 percent mandate to go through with the request.

If the county makes the property purchase, it will raise everyone in the county's tax rate to $6.30 per $100 of assessed valuation, or a two cent raise countywide.

Sullivan and other interested Antiochans were among the many people jammed into the Forest Preserve's meeting on Friday, Sullivan read a formal request for the property purchase while presenting maps and plats of the area to the Forest Preserve Dist's Land Acquisition Committee.

The forest preserve will now handle the request in executive session, a procedure that could take from one week to one year to resolve.

The association, while sitting and waiting for that decision, will be making plans for its next move, added Sullivan.

Along The Way With Annie Mae

This week marks the end of an era in retailing as the going out of business signs go up on Barnstables. Its hard for me to remember when there was no Barnstables to head to if I needed a quality piece of clothing, its been around so long.

Don Peterson, who has had the store for the last 18 years, having taken over where Russ Barnstable left off, says he just can't take the long hours retail requires any more.

Don had a heart bypass a few years baek and his doctor wanted him to quit then but "the girls were so enthusiastic I couldn't do it then and I don't want to do it now," he adds.

In the last few years, the girls, as he calls them, have brought city sharpness to Antioch's clothing shelves.

Don will continue working with the large storage business he has in Round Lake.

Meanwhile ladies, what a place for marked down Christmas shopping!

The orange haired punk rocker you saw heading down Lake St. last Monday was just Randy Miles celebrating Halloween with gusto!

Speaking of the State Bank, pretty Florence Babusek just returned from a vacation in California. Where's that tan, Florence?

Anyone who thinks all teens are going to the proverbial dogs should have watched the red balloon ascensions at Antioch High School last week. It had to do with the kids' commitment to "say no" to drugs.

See everyone at St. Peters "Footlights" this weekend. You'll find old Annie Mae spending most of her time in the room Jack Borini's singing in. That man likes my kind of music.

Traco gets use permit, village seeks to injoin

by GLORIA DAVIS
The Lake County States Attorney's office is continuing to watch the new Traco, Inc. operation on Rte. 83 in the north side of the Village of Antioch. According to Assistant States Atty. Larry Clark, his office and Traco have come to an agreement that Traco has resolved the requirements of reporting certain information to local emergency agencies. The county has issued

Traco a change of use permit and the company can for the present operate legally. Meanwhile, the county is still looking into any complaints of noxious odors and the use of dangerous materials by the chemical manufacturing company. "These things are hard to prove," said Clark. The village is taking over where the county has slowed down and Village

Atty. Ken Clark, acting on orders from the village board, is preparing a lawsuit to be filed by the village against Traco, seeking to injoin the company's operations at its present sight. The village will be basing its case on nuisance violations. Traco's plant in North Chicago was destroyed last summer when an explosion and subsequent fire killed three employees.

Arts council endorses college tax levy

The Lake County Arts Council has officially endorsed the College of Lake County (CLC) tax levy referendum. By unanimous vote, the motion to "officially go on record as supporting the tax referendum" was passed at the sixth annual meeting of the cultural arts organization.

Russ Peterson, dean of curriculum and instruction at CLC, was the guest speaker as the arts council met to celebrate their efforts to promote the arts in Lake County and begin plans to continue their work.

Peterson briefly reviewed the contributions that the college has made to the lives of local citizens, and indicated that this is the first tax increase CLC has asked for in its 20-year history. The college is seeking an 11-cent increase in the operating tax rate to alleviate a financial crisis brought on by shortfalls in state funding and increased operating costs.

Environmental concerns mounting, new agenda urged

by JOE WINTER

Werner Fornos says that the people of the earth are today producing an "environmental Armageddon," but it is not yet too late to change our fate.

Fornos is president of the Population Institute, a Washington-based, non-profit, public interest group. He lectured at the College of Lake County in October, and presented scores of figures to back up his point, figures which indicate that many problems faced by the human race are related, and when compounded make dangers to our planet even more severe.

"We're gaining people and losing ground," Fornos said in calling for a new global agenda. "Slowing down population growth is an issue the whole world must address. Perhaps the reason that we keep ignoring the warning signals is that we are a demographically divided society."

Fornos, in an interview given just before the start of his talk, started listing figures which make the status of the planet seem grave indeed.

For instance, Illinois has 55,300 square miles over which to distribute its 11.5 million people. If you think things can be crowded here, consider that almost ten times that number of people live in Bangladesh in almost the same square-mile area.

Illinois' population, at the current rate of growth, will double every 102 years. The population of Bangladesh stands to double every 26 years. This is due, in large part, to the fact that 45 percent of the population of that Asian country is aged 15 years or younger, compared to 22 percent in Illinois. The childbearing years of the vast majority of the population in Bangladesh still are coming.

Will the population of Bangladesh, which already has an infant mortality rate which is over 10 times that of Illinois, indeed double? "Obviously that will never happen. Nature will intervene. And nature is not kind," Fornos said.

The domino effect of overpopulation starts when other factors are figured, including declining forest land, erosion of topsoil, expansion of deserts, and depletion of the ozone layer.

One-half of the world's forests will be gone by the year 2000, Fornos said, and this will restrict the volume of oxygen we have to breathe. Fifty percent of forest land is located in the Indonesia and Brazil, and this is being cut at a rapid rate. Wood is the main fuel for 70 percent of third world families, and above and beyond this factor, massive amounts of acreage are being cut to expand the agricultural base in these countries, in an effort to feed their many hungry people.

About 92 percent of population growth in coming years will be in the third world, Fornos said. "Their lives are miserable, malnourished and brief."

An additional loss accompanying massive cutting of tropical forests is that of plants which might have had medicinal value. As many as 10,000 species of plants in tropical forests, some of them not even identified, will become extinct by the year 2000, Fornos said.

The cities in the third world attract young people with bright lights and perceived chances for a better life. The influx of people has made these cities "cesspools," Fornos said.

Some such cities at the foot of the Himalayas have been subject to tremendous flooding. In the hills, which have been converted in large part to agriculture, poor planting practices have led to widescale erosion. The monsoons bring heavy rains, and the water cascades down the mountains with little plant cover to stop it. The natural aquifers are

State Representative

Seek volunteers for disaster services

Members of the Lake County Sheriff's Reserve Deputy team labored for over 7,000 hours last year to assist the sheriff's department to provide citizens with the most effective law enforcement and disaster services possible.

According to Sheriff Clint Grinnell, the department is seeking volunteers to bring the reserve deputy unit to its full strength of 50 members. Volunteers must be 21 years old and in reasonably good health. They will be interviewed by a panel of officers, subjected to the same background check as a regular police officer and given 12 to 16 weeks of training. During a probationary period of one year, they will be closely supervised and evaluated, before being enrolled as full members.

No experience is necessary, although the experience of being a reserve has brought benefits to its members, who include corporate executives, small businessmen, truck drivers, housewives, skilled and semi-skilled workers.

The mayor of Round Lake Hts., Claire Petrick, is one. Reserve Army officers Joe and Ruthanne Dunn of Gurnee belong to the unit, while retirees Robert Brinston of Fox Lake and Harold Nelson of Libertyville are reserves. Jacqueline Grom is employed part-time with the Richmond Police Force.

The reserve unit is the outgrowth of the Neighborhood Watch/Mobile Eye Patrol units which were formed about 1970 to serve as the eyes and the ears of the police in various communities. Jim and Judy Crockett of Grandwood Park and other community leaders met to propose a county-wide volunteer group to assist the sheriff.

Mobile One Search and Rescue Team was trained in CPR, first aid, and search and rescue techniques. Training and responsibilities of the unit were expanded at the end of the decade, at which time the name was changed to Lake County Reserve Deputies, in order to guarantee adequate training, access to county equipment and insurance coverage while on duty.

For further information, or to join the reserves, call the Dept. of Emergency Services at (312) 682-7735.

Social Security numbers required on 1988 returns

The Internal Revenue Service reminds individuals that all dependents who will be at least five years old by Dec. 31 must have a social security number. This number must be shown on the 1988 tax return of those who claim the children as dependents. The tax returns are due by April 15, 1989.

"If a dependent does not have a social security number, either the taxpayer or the dependent should apply for one as soon as possible by completing Form SS-5 with the Social Security Administration," advised R. S. Wintrobe, Jr., Internal Revenue Service district director for northern Illinois.

"This form can be obtained from the IRS Forms Distribution Center by calling 1-800-424-3676, toll free," he added. Information about applying for a social security number is available at the local Social Security Administration Office.

All persons needing to apply for a social security number should make the application as quickly as possible. This new rule will generate a very large volume of applications. Applying early will allow time for Social Security Administration to assign the number.

For more information on social security numbers for dependents, call the IRS Tele-Tax service. Just dial T-A-X-N-E-W-S (or 1-800-554-4477 outside area code 312) and listen to Topic 501.

"I LOVE LUCI."

Six months ago Katie McKenna and her family moved to Lake County. They needed a new family doctor, so Katie called Luci at Condell's Doctors Office Connection, a physician referral service.

Unlike other referral services, D.O.C. goes far beyond using a computerized system to match a patient's special medical needs with a doctor. Luci also takes the time to match intangibles (such as a patient's personality and temperament) with one of our many talented and experienced specialists. And if it's urgent, we will schedule a doctor's appointment while you are on the line. It's this kind of personal attention that makes Luci and D.O.C. so special.

Just ask Katie.

And call Luci at DOC-2900, ext. 5610.

You'll love our healthy attitude.

Homeowners should plan now for insurance claims

Don Pence, a 25-year veteran of the Kemper National Property-Casualty Companies' claim department, has a tip for homeowners: start planning now for the insurance claim you may have to file someday.

"First of all, make sure your home is adequately insured," Pence said. "Kemper recommends insuring a single-family home for 90 to 100 percent of the building's replacement cost, 80 percent at the very least." With that amount, in the case of a partial loss, you would receive a settlement based on present-day repair costs without deducting for depreciation.

He suggests taking an inventory of the home's contents. "Use a video camera or take photos of the furniture and valuables. That will make it easier for the insurer to determine their value. And keep receipts for those big-ticket items."

Pence said that educating homeowners about the claim process is an important service insurance companies should provide. "That's why, for instance, Kemper makes a consumer insurance guide available to the public," he said. "The better-educated consumers purchase their insurance more wisely, and they know what to expect when they file a claim."

Other tips Pence provided included that policyholders should consider purchasing a replacement cost endorsement for contents so that settlement on most items will be based on the cost of replacing the items, without deductions for wear and tear.

Pence reminded homeowners that after a loss, they are required to do everything they can to prevent further damage. That might include boarding up windows or replacing broken locks. Insurers will reimburse you for those costs.

But the first thing to do after a loss, Pence says, is report it to your independent insurance agent. "The sooner the ball gets rolling, the sooner the claim will be settled."

Editor's note: Single copies of "Homeowners and Auto Insurance: A Guide" are available free by writing to Kemper Group, Public

Area markets moving toward uneasy equilibrium

by BRIAN HAYES

The Chicagoland office market is emerging from several years of unprecedented imbalance between supply and demand into a period of uneasy equilibrium.

Even though record leasing activity, combined with a slowdown of new construction in both city and suburbs, has reduced vacancy rates to their lowest level in three years, there is uneasiness stemming from a significant amount of space expected to come on the market in 1989 and 1990. In addition, vacancy rates, although improved, still reflect a large inventory of available space.

The multi-story suburban market is most indicative of the contradictory nature of today's office market. After peaking in excess of 30 percent in 1986, the overall vacancy rate has declined to 22.1 percent in September, 1988. This reduction in vacancy represents an improvement of nearly 28 percent, but almost 12.5 million square feet of suburban office space is still available for lease. Vacancy rates range from a low of 19.8 percent in the northern suburbs to a high of 24 percent in the Northwest Corridor.

With 4.3 million square feet of space now under construction, a further significant vacancy rate reduction is unlikely.

Downtown Chicago between Congress St. and the Chicago River, with a vacancy rate reduction from 14.4 percent in December, 1986, to 11.6 percent today, is much healthier than the suburban office market. However, like the suburbs, the central business district has a significant inventory of existing space with the addition of almost four million square feet of new space scheduled for delivery by 1990. These two factors work against any noteworthy decline in vacancy rates soon.

Generalizations regarding the Chicago office market are difficult due to its size and diversity. Each submarket within the city and suburbs has its own unique characteristics and conditions. However, companies considering a relocation can count on a steady supply of available space providing opportunities to upgrade and expand without the serious threat of a "landlord's market". At the same time, the tremendous landlord concessions fueled by the "tenant's market" of the mid-1980s are fading fast.

Wins in ruling

NORTH CHICAGO --- North Chicago resident Marion McElroy has won a favorable seven-point ruling from the Illinois Human Rights Commission. McElroy filed a complaint that her civil rights were violated when she was dismissed from her duties as assistant Lake County State's Attorney in 1985. She claimed and the commission agreed that she did not violate policy in negotiating settlements and that she was not insubordinate to her supervisor. The Lake County State's Attorney's office has 30 days to respond to the ruling.

No new post office

LAKE VILLA—No new post office will be built this year to replace an overcrowded main facility and auxiliary sorting center. Although three acres of land was purchased earlier this year and plans drawn, there is no money in the 1989 federal budget year that started Oct. 1. Neither is there money for 1990 and, not optimistically, in 1991, says a spokesman in the postmaster general's office in Washington, D. C. Postmaster Walter Dickow says he "will keep hoping."

Village sues Traco

ANTIOCH—Traco, Inc. formerly located in North Chicago until an explosion destroyed the chemical factory last summer leaving three employees dead, can presently operate in the Village of Antioch legally now that it has completed required report of information to local emergency services and received a change of use permit from the county. While the states attorney's office is still working on any noxious odors and dangerous materials used by the company, the village board has instructed Atty. Ken Clark to file suit to enjoin Traco from operating in the village based on nuisance laws.

Arrested for murder

ROUND LAKE BEACH---Brothers Matthew and William Homer of Wis. were arrested in Florida for the 1985 murder of Robert Certa, who lived at 419 Lake St. Work of Round Lake Beach Detectives Bitler and Simonecelli were credited by Police Chief Noe for their long hours of work and persistence in the arrest of the Homers.

Mills meeting

GURNEE --- More views were heard at the continuation of the annexation hearing for a 325 acre Gurnee Mills superregional mall site proposed to be annexed to the village of Gurnee at Warren Twp. High School Tuesday. Gurnee Mills developer Western Development Corp. plans $2.5 million for retail space. A shopping center and a theatre is also planned as well as a hotel.

Five county offices on the line Tuesday

Whatever else voters might know or have heard about the Tuesday, Nov. 8 election, they have seen the signs of those running for county office. These are at almost every major intersection, on utility poles and a few bumpers. They promote those running for five county posts are on the ballot—sheriff, clerk of circuit court, coroner, recorder of deeds and state's attorney.

One of the biggest races is for sheriff where Clinton Grinnell wants to keep the two-year unexpired term to which he was appointed in March upon the death of former Sheriff Mickey Babcox. Grinnell served on the Libertyville Police Dept. for 27 years, 13 of them as chief. He became chief deputy when Babcox was elected sheriff in 1982. His Democratic opponent is John Hoff of Waukegan, who was a captain with the Waukegan Police Dept. where he served 27 years before retiring in 1976. He served two terms as Waukegan alderman. His father, Clarence, ran for sheriff in 1950.

Another big race is for state's attorney where the holder of the office since 1980, Fred Foreman of Wildwood, wants another four-year lease. He wants to be the first three-term holder of this office where he is a visible, headlines-making type of person. His Democratic challenger is Atty. Robert Long of Antioch, who advocates a law-and-order stance for the office. In this election he has been long on press releases, but short on signs. Foreman signs and billboards dominate the countryside.

Coroner Barbara Richardson of Grayslake is trying for her second, four-year term. She began working in the office 12 years ago and was appointed to the post when then-coroner Mickey Babcox was elected sheriff. Her Democratic opponent is Robert Baker of Libertyville, a physician for 18 years. He wants to bring a medical examiner system to the office.

The other county race is between two-term incumbent Republican Circuit Court Clerk Sally Deadrick Coffelt of Gurnee and Democrat Julia Edwards, a Round Lake Heights trustee. Coffelt was first elected as a Democrat and has since switched party affiliations. The former school teacher and executive secretary says her office has handled an increased court workload with dispatch. Edwards, a legal secretary with an insurance company, says she will reorganize the office to improve efficiency, including adding new employees where needed. She has been a village trustee since 1987.

Three state reps in race for jobs

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Out of six General Assembly districts in Lake County, representatives in three of them face challenges in the Tuesday, Nov. 8, election.

Returning to office without trying are the popular Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park) of the 58th Dist. of West Deerfield; Virginia Fiester-Frederick (R-Lake Forest) of the adjoining 59th Dist. consisting of Libertyville and parts of Avon, Warren, Shields and West Deerfield townships; and Richard Klemm (R-Crystal Lake) of the 63rd Dist. that includes Grant, Wauconda and Fremont townships.

In the 60th Dist.—Cuba, Elia, Vernon and part of West Deerfield townships—three-term incumbent William Peterson (R-Prairie View) faces Republican-turned-Democrat Robin Weiss of Buffalo Grove.

Over in the heavily-Democratic 61st Dist.—parts of heavily-populated Waukegan and Shields townships—22-year veteran John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) is facing Tri-state Tollway collector Thomas Jones, a Democrat turned Republican.

Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa)

of the 62nd Dist.—Antioch, Lake Villa, Newport, Benton, Zion, and parts of Warren, Waukegan and Avon townships—meets Democrat Grant Farrell of Antioch on the ballot.

In the 60th Dist., Peterson sees the need for extending four-lane Rte. 53, but not before expanding Rte. 22 through Lincolnshire to four lanes, making Rte. 83 four lanes from Long Grove to Mundelein and improving Rtes. 83 and 45 at other locations. He also wants the state aid funding formula for schools improved.

Weiss calls Peterson a double-dipper for serving in state and township posts. President of RTW International Corp. in Deerfield, he, too, favors the extension of Rte. 53 and widening of Rtes. 21, 22 and 83. He advocates a 10-cent surtax on cigarettes, beer and soft drinks to fund education.

Matijevich, who is assistant House majority leader in Springfield, has represented Waukegan and North Chicago for 22 years. Before his election he was a magistrate and police chief in North Chicago. He has been listed as one of the 10 best legislators in Illinois by the Chicago Sun-Times.

Jones, who worked for Sears Roebuck & Co. 19 years before getting a tollway job one year ago, has lived in Waukegan for 10 years. He faults Matijevich for supporting unions, not doing more to provide a new North Chicago High School and support of education in general.

In the northern 62nd Dist., Churchill wants badly to return to Springfield where he is recognized as bright, articulate and able, which is why he has the minority whip post. "I'm running on my record," he said of support for bills on environmental issues, revenue-taxation, transportation and nuclear safety.

Farrell says the issue in this race is full-time representation, noting Churchill practices law at an office in Grayslake. He has taken a one-year leave of absence from a Zion plumbing firm where he is executive vice president to campaign. He advocates changes in the way education is funded, controlled growth, preservation of wetlands, more builder impact fees, more jobs and programs for senior citizens. He opposes the extension of Rte. 53.

Without a doubt, no single vote Illinois voters will cast Tuesday, Nov. 8, will have more effect on their daily lives in the months and years to come than their decision on whether a Constitutional Convention should be called for 1990.

We are proud to stand with scores of responsible and respected organizations and leaders in unalterable opposition to calling another Con Con. The convention would be costly, is not necessary, and is extremely dangerous in that the Illinois Constitution would be prey for special interest groups and single issue attack. We urge a resounding "no" on Con Con.

JR. COLLEGE TAX INCREASE

Changing state support patterns have resulted in further taxpayer burdens for providing for educational services. The College of Lake County has been operating on the same tax rate since its founding 20 years ago. The college has requested voter approval of a modest tax increase. To keep the school moving forward, we have endorsed increases in the educational and building rates.

WINCHESTER HOUSE

Lake County's skilled care facility, Winchester House, is plagued by chronic financial deficiencies. Voters are being asked to increase the general levy from 2 1/2 cents to 10 cents, with the proviso that only 4 1/2 cents will be levied. The increase will cost the average family less than a round of hamburgers at their favorite fast food stop and provide for a sounder financial base for this important public facility. A "yes" vote is recommended.

CORONER

Barbara E. Richardson, Republican incumbent, has brought a new dimension to the coroner's office with her sensitive and caring administration. The Democrat, Robert Lee Baker, a physician, is qualified, but there is no need to change in our mind. The voters should retain Richardson.

RECORDER OF DEEDS

Frank J. Nustra has set standards of honesty, integrity and service that will stand for years. The veteran Republican wins our support for reelection hands down. Jack H. Piller, the Democrat, offers only token opposition.

CIRCUIT CLERK

Incumbent Sally Deadrick Coffelt, a Republican, is opposed by Julia E. Edwards, a Democrat making her first race for county office. No endorsement.

Fee plan embraced

More and more school districts in this locality are providing for impact fees to be paid by developers to ease the financial crunch resulting from rapid growth and development. Now there's a new wrinkle for developers to consider.

Now Illinois' two fastest growing counties, Lake and DuPage, are considering transportation impact fees.

Under consideration here is the proposed "Lake County Fair Share Transportation Impact Fee", designed to have developers pay in advance for the road improvements needed as the result of their developments.

The Lake County plan presently is on hold for further study after being unveiled at a meeting of the Lake County Board Public Service Committee. A growing number of DuPage leaders and citizens, fed up with traffic congestion spawned by prosperity and growth, are pushing for highway impact fees. They feel that they are playing catch up with problems brought on by rapid urbanization.

Developers are hot under the collar, but they are caught between a rock and a hard place. If they fight the transportation fee too strenuously, officialdom will cut off their most precious commodity, land. So Lake County developers are taking the tack of urging a "go slow" policy and they are pleading to be part of the planning process.

Supt. Martin Buehler of the Lake County Division of Transportation backs imposition of the fees to the hilt, calling it a "growth accommodation device." The fee concept already has been embraced by some developers; most notably Western Development Corp., developers of the giant Gurnee Mills Mall, which is ready to ante up $4 million. Dist. 1 Rep. Donald Strenger of Lake Forest as well as Dist. 5 Rep. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville are among supporters. Graham says the fee isn't a "sock it to 'em" scheme, but a cost of doing business.

Transportation impact fees are a step in the right direction, but when growth explodes, the fees will only be part of the solution to road building needs, unfortunately.

Letters To The Editor

Position unsupported

Editor:

Joseph Bogacz of Round Lake has criticized Fred L. Foreman for utilizing a sign on Rte. 12, near Volo for campaign purposes. Bogacz infers that Foreman is entertaining selective enforcement of the county's sign ordinance. Such position is unsupported for two reasons:

The Building and Zoning Dept. red-tagged the sign in question and attempted to obtain compliance with the sign ordinance. It was not until Oct. 21, 1988 that the Building and Zoning Dept. referred the red-tag to the state's attorney office for prosecution. The prosecution process was immediately initiated in response to said request.

Finally, Bogacz refers to other "selective" enforcement of the county's zoning ordinances and refers to a comparison of two excavating and trucking businesses with the Wauconda "tree cutting" incident. Such comparison is unwarranted for the following reasons:

First, the Wauconda "tree cutting" incident involved the imminent destruction of natural resources. In such cases immediate enforcement is warranted and is permitted by the courts. In cases where there is not the potential of immediate and irreparable harm, judicial action cannot be obtained as quickly.

In reference to the "trucking and excavating businesses" operating near Volo, Bogacz may be surprised to learn that such illegal practices have cost one of the firms $15,000 to date and continued prosecution from the state's attorney's office.

Hail recycling age

Editor:

Har's off to the age of recycling. I, and everyone else I know are strongly in favor of the concept of recycling. But, is it really working? Everyone wants a cleaner environment, but the real issue here is will each individual do his or her part to make recycling successful? Although there are a few people doing their part, from what I witness, many are not. This is evident with the amount of trash people are putting out on their town's selected

Apathy spells greatest danger to our nation

by BILL SCHROEDER

Mercifully, it'll all be over Tuesday and the voters will have selected a leader to guide our nation for the next four years, possibly eight years.

For better or worse, the American system of electing a president provides for a process lasting approximately two years. If this ritual becomes a bit wearisome keep in mind that it has worked out pretty well. The danger of non-stop campaigning isn't that we chase off worthwhile candidates, but that the voters get worn out or turned off. Apathy is the scourge of American politics.

If the monster of apathy rears its ugly head, the danger isn't that a liberal or a conservative will be elected, but that some other form will replace our present system. Congressman Philip Crane put the trend toward non-voting in focus the other day when he remarked that an apathetic electorate exposes society to the tyranny of special interests; apathy invites dangerous swings. Apathy is the specter that paves the way for destructive change. We weren't talking about Bush vs. Dukakis. We were talking about Con Con. The more people who go to the polls Tuesday, the more difficult it will be to approve an unwanted and unnecessary Constitutional convention. This is where the devastation of apathy could be felt.

Set aside a few moments to go to the polls Tuesday. Those will be minutes well spent.

garbage day each week. We cannot form the attitude, "I don't need to help, someone else will do it, or what difference will I make?" It's going to take everyone and we must all work together to make recycling a successful part in helping clean up the environment. I have seen petitions with numerous signatures stating we should stop the expansion of ARF. Most all of us are in agreement with this. But who do we think we are not to put the blame on ourselves?

Liberals help people

Editor:

What's wrong with being a liberal? So many good programs have benefitted the common people under the administration of Democratic presidents, Roosevelt, Truman, Kennedy to name some that had the people in mind when they promoted so-called liberal programs.

Social Security, Medicare, housing for the poor and veterans with no down payment and low interest rates; federal aid to higher education. Liberals believe in helping those who need help. Conservatives seem to want to reduce or eliminate programs that help those in need.

Politically speaking...by JOSEPH SOULAK

With even token opposition, all candidates—Republican and Democrat—are running for their political life this election. Take, for example, congressmen John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. and Phillip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) of the 12th District.

Porter's opponent is Gene Friedman, a patent lawyer from Highland Park. Making life miserable for Crane is John A. Leonardi, about whom little is known.

Porter and Crane are campaigning as if this were their first instead of a veteran campaign. Why?

"We want to win with as big a margin as possible," Porter said. "The Congressional Campaign Committee for both parties charts all races. Where a candidate gets only 50 or 55 percent of the vote he is targeted as being vulnerable in the next election. In our case, that could mean the Democratic party putting lots of money into the 1990 campaign."

So Porter and Crane are running hard. They hope to win big, so big that the Democrats may write this one off next time.

Neat bumper sticker this campaign for Lake County Recorder Frank Nustra. In office since 1960, he has won seven consecutive campaigns in his 52 years of being elected to various public offices.

This year's bumper placard is a beautiful red, white and blue with the candidate's name, office and the words, "Make it 8 in '88".

One candidate glad this campaign is coming to an end is Sheriff Clinton Grinnell. Not only is he weary of the cocktail and chicken-with-peas circuit, he is anxious about the outcome of his first full-fledged campaign for elective office.

"I want to get back to doing what I know best—law enforcement," the sheriff said. "Each day in the sheriff's office starts off with a staff meeting at 9 a.m.

Churchill

Grinnell

The officers get together to discuss what is coming up, ongoing happenings and other details. I've always done this. Some days those meetings aren't possible," he said of his command performance breakfasts, luncheons, testimonials and other appearances that go with the campaign territory.

Where will the election night victory parties be? Incumbent county office holders like Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, State's Atty. Fred Foreman, Coroner Barbara Richardson, Recorder Frank Nustra and Circuit Clerk Sally Coffelt are serving punch and cold cuts in their offices. Friends are invited.

Others are holding receptions at various locations around the county, including their own homes. Those interested may call.

Teachers like state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist. He has been endorsed for re-election by the Illinois Education Assn., which always has supported him. This stamp of approval was inadvertently attributed to his opponent, Grant Farrell of Antioch. Farrell and all other Democrats throughout the state, with the exception of one Republican hopeful in Chicago, have the backing of the Illinois Federation of Teachers. Sorry, guys, for the mixup.

Churchill opposes

Editor:

G.R.A.S.S. opposes the reelection of State Rep. Robert Churchill for the following reasons:

1. The major role Rep. Churchill has taken to extend Rte. 53 to Rte. 120 in Lake County.

2. Rep. Churchill's apparent insensitivity and disregard for preserving open space in Lake County.

Developers would greatly benefit at the expense of Lake County's citizens with the Rte. 53 extension.

Crane, Porter have perennial challenge

Two congressional incumbents representing Lake County are again facing challenges to re-election.

Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. along the North Shore is being challenged by Democrat Gene Friedman of Highland Park. Porter has been re-elected every two years since winning a special 1980 election to succeed the late Robert McClory.

In the adjoining 12th Dist., which includes the rest of Lake County, Phillip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) is facing Democrat John Leonardi of Fox River Grove, who is making a second attempt to unseat the 10-term incumbent.

Friedman has attacked almost every Congressional bill or action with which Porter has been identified, calling his representation of the district "inadequate." One of the bills Porter said he originally introduced, but later was attributed to others, halted the threatened Chicago and North Western Transportation Co. strike last summer.

Porter also said he voted with the majority of Congress on a bill that could close dozens of military bases starting next year, including those at Great Lakes, Ft. Sheridan and Glenview Naval Air Station. "I do not think any of these are at risk," he said, "but if the commission charged with making the final decision lists any of these" Porter said he will oppose the final legislation.

Friedman says "Porter votes one way in Washington and comes back to the district with a different story." A patent attorney, he served as chairman of the Deerfield Twp. Democratic Organization and chairman of the Environmental Control

Phillip Crane

John Porter

Comm. in Highland Park.

The 10th Dist. includes some of the most affluent suburbs north of Chicago all the way from Wilmette to Lake Forest, Highland Park and extending west to Deerfield and Bannockburn.

Crane represents the adjoining 12th Dist. of farm fields next to new subdivisions and growing communities that is filling with effluent Chicago transplants. The one-time history professor with conservative following and excellent public speaking presence is as much at home in Congress as in a classroom. He taught history at Bradley University, Indiana University and Westminster Academy in Northbrook.

Leonardi, undaunted by his big loss to Crane the last time, has plenty of ideas of his own. He espouses more help for senior citizens and college students, two groups he says Crane has ignored. He also advocates a voluntary non-military service, which he says will help those involved cover costs of housing and education while reducing the national deficit. By working two years in civil or social service areas volunteers would receive vouchers for housing or education.

Don't for the sake of a development, profit, or in the name of "progress" continue to have thoughtless zoning changes and building that keeps gobbling up some of our most beautiful land.

Hopefully, 20 or 30 years or so into the future it will be with pride to say that the village board plus the planning committee with visionary wisdom said "no" to destroying the Heatheridge entryway landmark woods.

Can't get there from here

Editor:

I recall hearing a story some time ago which is self explanatory in regards to supporting the extension of Rte. 53. A Chicagoan was visiting a friend in Libertyville and wanted to go to Arlington Park race track. The Chicagoan said to the Libertyville friend, "I'll take Rte. 176 west over to Rte. 53 south to get to the track." The man from Libertyville said, "hold it! Rte. 53 does not go through - it ends at Rte. 68. Get some paper and I'll explain how to get there." The friend then proceeded to explain how to get from Libertyville to Rte. 53 south. "Take Rte. 176 west to Butterfield Road turn (left) south, then go to Rte. 60 turn (right) west to Rte. 83 turn (left) south over to (old 53) Hicks Rd. turn (right) kind of southwest to Rte. 12 Rand Rd. turn (left) kind of southeast to Rte. 68 Dundee Rd. (left) east to Rte. 53 (right) south, you go that!" The Chicagoan decided to go to the Milwaukee zoo, for it was much easier to get there.

Mrs. Republican, county matriarch

by JOSEPH SOULAK

At election time there are some voters candidates can always count on. They are on poll lists as voting in every election, big or small, primary or presidential. Most are called in the days and weeks before an election to vote for this candidate or that one.

Someone who does more than vote in every election is an Avon Twp. woman. To many in the Lake County Republican Party, she is Mrs. Republican.

For more than 40 years Margaret Wood of Third Lake has been making her house-by-house rounds with campaign literature two weeks before an election. On that day she is at the polls when they open at 6 a.m. and still there at 7 p.m. closing. When she isn't people ask if she is sick. Even if she were, Wood would still find a way to be active in the election. But that has never happened to the healthy, happy, always-smiling woman with the pixie face.

This sprightly woman with gray-white hair pulled back could easily be someone's favorite grandmother. But that's not her. She would rather be in the middle of a political campaign than reading a good book or watching late-night television, both of which she loves.

She's been politically involved for 45 or more years. "It really started in Waukegan," Wood said of house calls she made in the early 1940s to drum up PTA support for a teacher's raise. It continued when she and her husband, William, moved to Third Lake in 1947 to set up housekeeping in a garage built with $200 of scrap lumber on property they bought in 1941.

In those years the Woods covered the countryside around Grayslake for then Republican precinct committeeman Chuck Billings.

It wasn't long before her husband was elected precinct committeeman. Because she had the time and he didn't, she delivered campaign flyers, lawn signs and bumper stickers. Every home in the rural area around Third Lake extending into Grayslake was personally visited by her. "In those days more women were home and had time to talk," she said of the 1950s and 1960s. "I really enjoyed it."

"It took 10 days to two weeks to do the mostly rural precinct," Wood said of the former Avon 3 that still is among the largest township precincts in land area with 475 registered voters. "In those days you had to work for the party if a job depended on it," she recalled.

Due to that political climate, her husband was in and out of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. starting in 1950 and again in 1962, a private investigator in between, and, finally, deputy coroner for two years at the time of his death from a heart attack on Oct. 26, 1967. Elected the first mayor of Third Lake in December 1959, prior to that he was president of the lake homeowner's association for years. At his death residents wanted her to take over the mayoral reigns. It wasn't until 1973 she agreed to do it for four years.

When her husband died, Wood willingly accepted appointment as precinct committeewoman. She was elected the following April and every two years since then. "I knew everyone and did most of the work, anyhow," she said. She was also active in the Avon Twp. Women's Republican Club, serving several years as recording secretary, before it merged with the men's club. Her husband was president of the club for many years.

Not one to sit home, after her husband's passing, Wood became the "one woman office doing everything from filing and bookkeeping" at the Lake County Radio Dept. in Libertyville starting in 1966. She retired Nov. 30, 1980.

This gave her more time to cover the large, mostly Republican precinct. Unlike the old days, she now has several helpers. They mostly work the homes in Grayslake while she takes care of those in and around Third Lake plus all the rest of the township.

Active politically

Political pair of long-standing in Avon Twp. and much of Lake County in the '40s, '50s and '60s were Mr. and Mrs. William Wood. When he died of a heart attack in 1967 she became precinct committeewoman in Avon 3, now Avon 24, and has been elected every two years since. For this, her devotion to the GOP and work at election time she is fondly referred to as Mrs. Republican.

Music lovers who enjoyed the splendid outdoor summer concerts at Ravinia no longer need wait until summer, 1989, rolls around.

Bennett Hall, a new 450-seat auditorium, is adding a welcome extra dimension to the cultural scene in Lake County.

If a recent recital featuring Japanese-born Midori, a 17-year-old violinist who has studied the instrument since the age of four, can be considered a test of the new facility, judging from audience reaction, acoustically and aesthetically it passed with flying colors.

Midori, accompanied by pianist Robert McDonald, gave a virtuoso performance, enthralling with her deft rendition of Paganini's "Celebre Sonatina in E Major", a lively opener. She continued the spirited pace with Beethoven's "Sonata No. 9 in A Major".

Also on the program were Ysaye's "Sonata, E Minor, Opus 27, No. 4" and Franck's "Sonata, A Major".

Upcoming programs in the series will be the Chicago Chamber Musicians in a Brahms recital on Nov. 11, followed by concerts Nov. 12 featuring Dahl, Brahms, Debussy and Dvorak, and a Nov. 13 matinee featuring the works of Mozart, Brahms, Stravinsky and Janacek.

The Ravinia Women's Board on Dec. 3 at 2 p.m. will sponsor the Glen Ellyn Children's Chorus in a special performance.

Parks' contribution nets them Heritage Award

Stevenson High School will present its fourth annual Heritage Award to Long Grove residents William and Virginia Park during Heritage Week Oct. 24-29.

The award was established in 1985 to honor individuals who have made significant contributions to the Stevenson community and, therefore, are reminders of the school's rich heritage. The Parks have played a vital role in the community in their 50-year residence, and their efforts have secured and maintained a valued way of life for area residents.

The Parks built their Long Grove home during the first year of their marriage in 1938. Immediately, both became active in the educational, political and social issues of the area. Mr. Park served as a school board member for 17 years, beginning with the one-room Gridley School, and was on the Ela-Vernon Board of Education when the site of the present Adlai Stevenson High School was selected.

The Parks agree that the selection of Stevenson's campus site turned out to be a wise decision. "We bought the 12-acre site for about $32,000. It was situated in the center of the township, and there was—and still is—good access to the school," Park said.

"When you look back, you minimize the difficulties," Park recalled. "The actual separation from Ela Twp. was very important to the creation of Stevenson Dist. 125. You see it (Stevenson) as it is today, but it's important that you understand where we were."

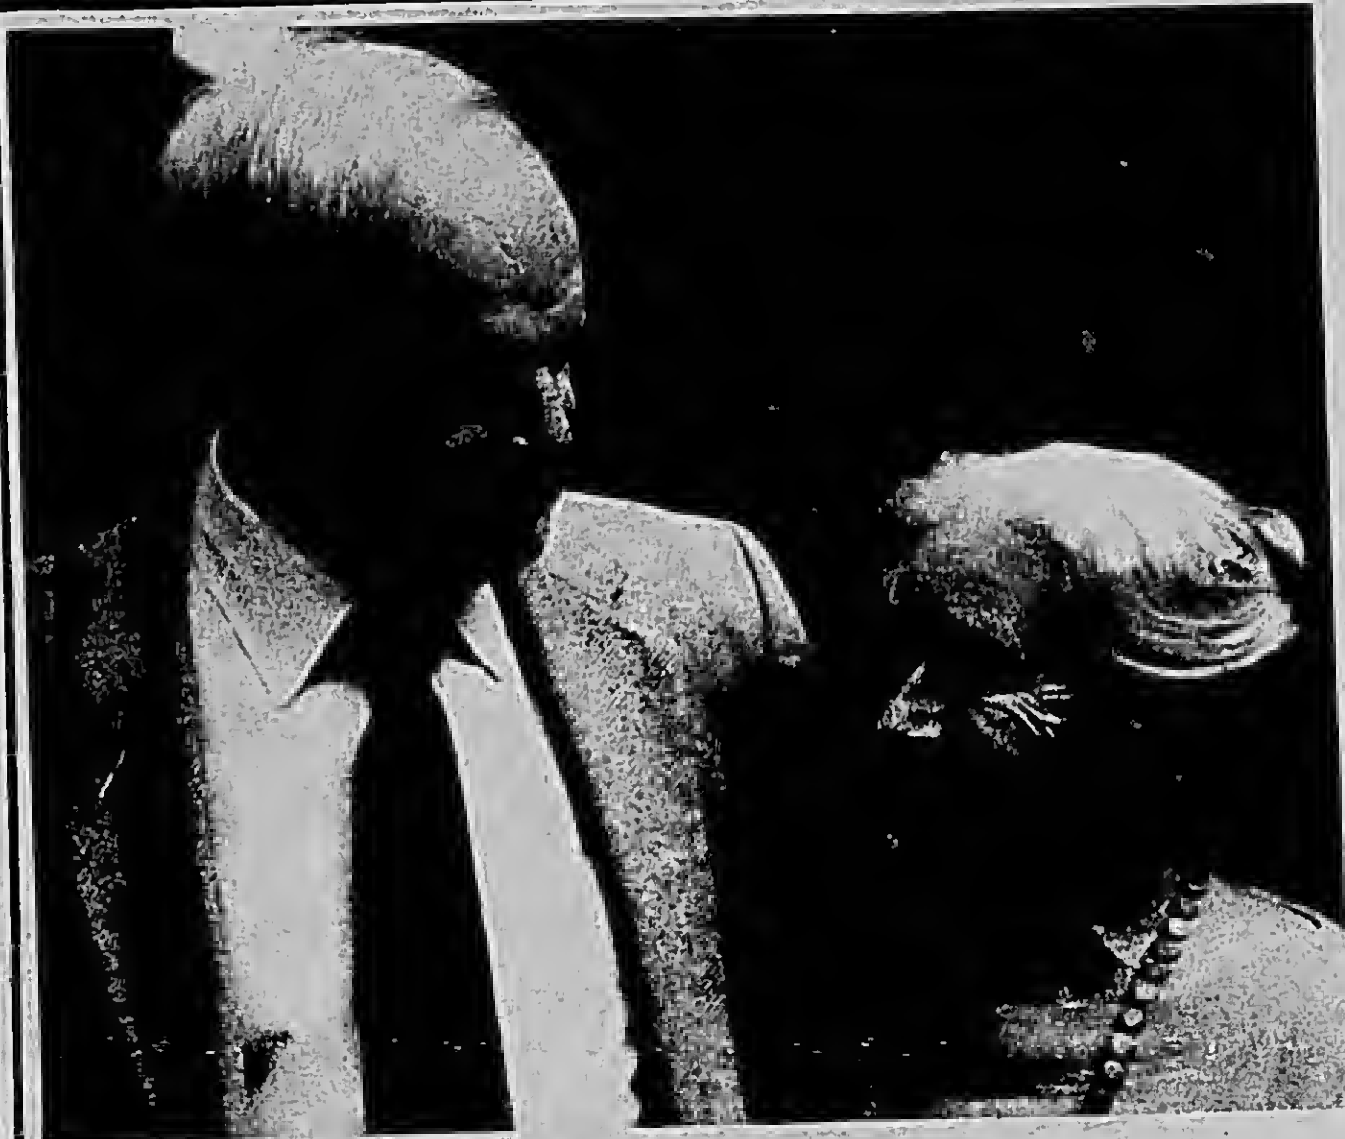

The Parks' interest in education was spurred by their three children, Drusilla, Deborah and Daniel, and both parents firmly believe that education's most important service is to provide "tools for living." They share the philosophy that high schools must concentrate on the liberal arts.

In addition to their interest in public education, the Parks have also made countless other contributions to the Dist. 125 community. Mrs. Park authored Long Grove Lore and Legend, which was awarded first place honors in 1979 Illinois State Historical Society competition. The book sets forth the remarkable, and often colorful, history of the Chicago north-suburban hamlet and contains a superb collection of photos, etchings and plates which depict life in the early Long Grove settlement and the pioneering residents who so profoundly influenced the community's direction.

Her interest in the community's past came, in part, through her experiences as a journalist for local newspapers—including the Frontier papers, the Lake Zurich Press and the Barrington Courier. She served as editor of the Vernon Town Crier for many years, and is presently a columnist for the Lakeland Newspapers. Mrs. Park's knowledge and desire to preserve the heritage of Vernon Twp. led her to establish the Vernon Twp. Historical Society. She has twice served as president of the Long Grove Historical Society and has been very active in Vernon Twp. politics, serving 30 years as an election judge.

Mr. Park has spent 25 or his 50 years in Long Grove in elected office. For 17 years he was a member of various school boards and served on the Vernon Twp. Board as justice of the peace. In addition, he has moderated the Vernon Twp. annual meeting about 30 times; and recently completed a term on the Vernon Twp. library board.

Skiing in Las Vegas

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I've always claimed there is more to do in Las Vegas than gambling. But snow skiing in an area known for sand and heat rather than snow and cold? You bet!

O.K., so you won't be able to climb aboard a chairlift at Caesar's Palace or go shushing down Las Vegas Boulevard any time before the next ice age. But a short drive of just 40 miles from the city of lights will put you smack in the middle of snow country!

Head out northwest of Vegas on Rte. 95. A left turn on Hwy. 156 and you'll find yourself in the Lee Canyon ski area of the Toiyabe National Forest. You're now high above the cactus and Joshua trees of the desert below. At this elevation (about 8,500 ft.) the climate is ideal for snow and snow making. You can ski from Thanksgiving to Easter!

An expert skier may find the slopes of Colorado a bit more challenging than what Lee Canyon can offer. But Vail or Winter Park don't have runs with names like "Highroller", "Slot Alley", and "The Strip". In all, about ten runs are serviced by three chair lifts.

There are two ski lodges in the area offering the usual amenities like fireplaces, saunas and whirlpools. But remember, this is Vegas territory. After a hard day of skiing, you can exercise your right arm on the slots while the kids head for the video arcade.

Let's say it's 95 degrees in Las Vegas and you decide you want to try some Nevada-style skiing. But the skis, parkas, and the rest are in the basement, at home, in Antioch. No problem. Head for "Ski Lee Rentals". You will find them at 2395 N. Rancho Rd. in Las Vegas. Not only can you rent all your equipment and buy your lift ticket right there, but you can hop on the Lee Canyon bus right outside their door and head for the slopes!

But if you are a real purest and must have your own equipment, let everyone think you are a little crazy and take those skis with you on your next trip to Las Vegas!

Mrs. Republican, county matriarch

by JOSEPH SOULAK

At election time there are some voters candidates can always count on. They are on poll lists as voting in every election, big or small, primary or presidential. Most are called in the days and weeks before an election to vote for this candidate or that one.

Someone who does more than vote in every election is an Avon Twp. woman. To many in the Lake County Republican Party, she is Mrs. Republican.

For more than 40 years Margaret Wood of Third Lake has been making her house-by-house rounds with campaign literature two weeks before an election. On that day she is at the polls when they open at 6 a.m. and still there at 7 p.m. closing. When she isn't people ask if she is sick. Even if she were, Wood would still find a way to be active in the election. But that has never happened to the healthy, happy, always-smiling woman with the pixie face.

This sprightly woman with gray-white hair pulled back could easily be someone's favorite grandmother. But that's not her. She would rather be in the middle of a political campaign than reading a good book or watching late-night television, both of which she loves.

She's been politically involved for 45 or more years. "It really started in Waukegan," Wood said of house calls she made in the early 1940s to drum up PTA support for a teacher's raise. It continued when she and her husband, William, moved to Third Lake in 1947 to set up housekeeping in a garage built with $200 of scrap lumber on property they bought in 1941.

In those years the Woods' covered the countryside around Grayslake for then Republican precinct committeeman Chuck Billings.

It wasn't long before her husband was elected precinct committeeman. Because she had the time and he didn't, she delivered campaign flyers, lawn signs and bumper stickers. Every home in the rural area around Third Lake extending into Grayslake was personally visited by her. "In those days more women were home and had time to talk," she said of the 1950s and 1960s. "I really enjoyed it."

"It took 10 days to two weeks to do the mostly rural precinct," Wood said of the former Avon 3 that still is among the largest township precincts in land area with 475 registered voters. "In those days you had to work for the party if a job depended on it," she recalled.

Due to that political climate, her husband was in and out of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. starting in 1950 and again in 1962, a private investigator in between, and, finally, deputy coroner for two years at the time of his death from a heart attack on Oct. 26, 1967. Elected the first mayor of Third Lake in December 1959, prior to that he was president of the lake homeowner's association for years. At his death residents wanted her to take over the mayoral reigns. It wasn't until 1973 she agreed to do it for four years.

When her husband died, Wood willingly accepted appointment as precinct committeewoman. She was elected the following April and every two years since then. "I knew everyone and did most of the work, anyhow," she said. She was also active in the Avon Twp. Women's Republican Club, serving several years as recording secretary, before it merged with the men's club. Her husband was president of the club for many years.

Not one to sit home, after her husband's passing, Wood became the "one woman office doing everything from filing and bookkeeping" at the Lake County Radio Dept. in Libertyville starting in 1966. She retired Nov. 30, 1980.

Critic's Choice In...
Lakeland

by TOM WITOM

Music lovers who enjoyed the splendid outdoor summer concerts at Ravinia no longer need wait until summer, 1989, rolls around.

Bennett Hall, a new 450-seat auditorium, is adding a welcome extra dimension to the cultural scene in Lake County.

If a recent recital featuring Japanese-born Midori, a 17-year-old violinist who has studied the instrument since the age of four, can be considered a test of the new facility, judging from audience reaction, acoustically and aesthetically it passed with flying colors.

Midori, accompanied by pianist Robert McDonald, gave a virtuoso performance, enthralling with her deft rendition of Paganini's "Celebre Sonata in E Major", a lively opener. She continued the spirited pace with Beethoven's "Sonata No. 9 in A Major".

Also on the program were Ysaye's "Sonata, E Minor, Opus 27, No. 4" and Franck's "Sonata, A Major".

Upcoming programs in the series will be the Chicago Chamber Musicians in a Brahms recital on Nov. 11, followed by concerts Nov. 12 featuring Dahl, Brahms, Debussy and Dvorak, and a Nov. 13 matinee featuring the works of Mozart, Brahms, Stravinsky and Janacek.

The Ravinia Women's Board on Dec. 3 at 2 p.m. will sponsor the Glen Ellyn Children's Chorus in a special performance.

This gave her more time to cover the large, mostly Republican precinct. Unlike the old days, she now has several helpers. They mostly work the homes in Grayslake while she takes care of those in and around Third Lake plus all the rest of the township.

Active politically

Political pair of long-standing in Avon Twp. and much of Lake County in the '40s, '50s and '60s were Mr. and Mrs. William Wood. When he died of a heart attack in 1967 she became precinct committeewoman in Avon 3, now Avon 24, and has been elected every two years since. For this, her devotion to the GOP and work at election time she is fondly referred to as Mrs. Republican.

Parks' contribution nets them Heritage Award

Stevenson High School will present its fourth annual Heritage Award to Long Grove residents William and Virginia Park during Heritage Week Oct. 24-29.

The award was established in 1985 to honor individuals who have made significant contributions to the Stevenson community and, therefore, are reminders of the school's rich heritage. The Parks have played a vital role in the community in their 50-year residence, and their efforts have secured and maintained a valued way of life for area residents.

The Parks built their Long Grove home during the first year of their marriage in 1938. Immediately, both became active in the educational, political and social issues of the area. Mr. Park served as a school board member for 17 years, beginning with the one-room Gridley School, and was on the Ela-Vernon Board of Education when the site of the present Adlai Stevenson High School was selected.

The Parks agree that the selection of Stevenson's campus site turned out to be a wise decision. "We bought the 12-acre site for about $32,000. It was situated in the center of the township, and there was—and still is—good access to the school," Park said.

"When you look back, you minimize the difficulties," Park recalled. "The actual separation from Ela Twp. was very important to the creation of Stevenson Dist. 125. You see it (Stevenson) as it is today, but it's important that you understand where we were."

The Parks' interest in education was spurred by their three children, Drusilla, Deborah and Daniel, and both parents firmly believe that education's most important service is to provide "tools for living." They share the philosophy that high schools must concentrate on the liberal arts.

In addition to their interest in public education, the Parks have also made countless other contributions to the Dist. 125 community. Mrs. Park authored Long Grove Lore and Legend, which was awarded first place honors in 1979 Illinois State Historical Society competition. The book sets forth the remarkable, and often colorful, history of the Chicago north-suburban hamlet and contains a superb collection of photos, etchings and plates which depict life in the early Long Grove settlement and the pioneering residents who so profoundly influenced the community's direction.

Her interest in the community's past came, in part, through her experiences as a journalist for local newspapers—including the Frontier papers, the Lake Zurich Press and the Barrington Courier. She served as editor of the Vernon Town Crier for many years, and is presently a columnist for the Lakeland Newspapers. Mrs. Park's knowledge and desire to preserve the heritage of Vernon Twp. led her to establish the Vernon Twp. Historical Society. She has twice served as president of the Long Grove Historical Society and has been very active in Vernon Twp. politics, serving 30 years as an election judge.

Mr. Park has spent 25 or his 50 years in Long Grove in elected office. For 17 years he was a member of various school boards and served on the Vernon Twp. Board as justice of the peace. In addition, he has moderated the Vernon Twp. annual meeting about 30 times, and recently completed a term on the Vernon Twp. library board.

02-001 Proposed Convention Call-Constitutional Amendment 02-001

PROPOSED CALL FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED CALL

This proposal deals with a call for a state constitutional convention. The last such convention was held in 1969-70, and a new constitution was adopted in 1970. That document requires that the question of calling a convention be placed before the voters every 20 years. This is your opportunity to vote on that question. If you believe the 1970 Illinois Constitution needs to be revised through the calling of a convention, you should vote YES. If you believe that a call for a constitutional convention is unnecessary, or that changes can be accomplished through other means, you should vote NO.

Punch the number opposite "YES" or "NO" to indicate your choice.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 1 OF ARTICLE III

(Voting Qualifications)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The proposed Amendment to Article III, Section 1, would make two changes in the Section setting forth voting qualifications for Illinois residents, both of which conform the Illinois Constitution to the requirements of federal law. First, the amendment would extend the right to vote to citizens between the ages of 18 and 21. The United States Constitution mandates the 18-year-old vote, and Illinois law has so provided since 1975. Second, the amendment would reduce the residency requirement for voting from 6 months to 30 days, which would bring Illinois law into line with federal constitutional requirements.

Punch the number opposite "YES" or "NO" to indicate your choice.

Proposed Convention Call-Constitutional Amendment

03-001 Constitutional Amendment 03-001

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 8 OF ARTICLE IX

(Delinquent Tax Sales)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The proposed Amendment deals with the problem of tax delinquency on commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm, and large multi-unit residential properties. This has no effect on single-family homes, farms, or apartment buildings containing 6 or fewer units.

Present Illinois law attempts to place tax delinquent properties back on the tax rolls in addition to an Annual Sale which must be held each year, recent changes in the law permit counties to conduct a "Scavenger Sale" for properties which are at least two years delinquent. The highest bidder at the Scavenger Sale receives a tax sale certificate. After the Scavenger Sale, the property owner is given a period of time to redeem the outstanding taxes. The certificate holder can take title to the property after this redemption period has expired.

The Constitution now guarantees the delinquent owner two years to pay back or redeem the delinquent taxes after the Scavenger Sale, with some exceptions: if a commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm or large multifamily (7 or more units) property is five or more years delinquent, the redemption period is currently six months.

The proposed Amendment has two components: First, it would allow the General Assembly to apply a six month redemption period to vacant non-farm, commercial, industrial and large multifamily properties which are two or more years delinquent. Second, the proposed Amendment would allow the General Assembly to apply a one year redemption period to the same properties if they are less than two years delinquent. Note that the Constitution simply establishes guidelines for the General Assembly, which is required to set specific redemption periods through the regular legislative process.

The net effect of this Amendment will be that all vacant, commercial, industrial and large multifamily properties (7 or more units) which are two or more years delinquent will have a redemption period of at least six months; and that vacant, commercial, industrial and large multifamily properties (7 or more units) which are less than two years delinquent will have a redemption period of at least one year.

It should be noted that the proposed Amendment more than adequately protects all property owners. It has no effect on single-family residences, farms, or small apartment buildings, it applies only to commercial, industrial, and vacant non-farm properties and buildings of 7 units or more. Even tax delinquent property owners will by law receive multiple notices of their delinquency before the property is put up for sale.

LOOK FOR US ON ELECTION DAY!

You've probably heard (more than you've ever wanted) that all Lake County voters will eventually have to re-register to vote, so that all of Illinois' voting records will be uniform. Since early 1986, our office and over 1000 deputy and precinct registrars throughout Lake County have been diligently working to get voters on the new form.

In an effort to get you re-registered easily and with no extra cost, we've started a program to update our files on ELECTION DAY at the polling places. This is where you come in.

At the November 8 election (and all others until we finish this project), we will have volunteer deputy registrars available, at as many precincts as we can find volunteers for, to update your voting records. So all we ask is this. If your polling place is one of those set up to take re-registrations, check your voter identification card to see if it's a BLUE one. If it's not blue, you were registered under our old system, and you should stop by one of these tables to get your records updated. It should take just a few minutes, and you will receive a new blue voter identification card shortly after the election.

We want to stress that this "updating" of your records is entirely voluntary and only for people who can vote on election day. If you are ineligible to vote because you moved or had a name change, you may not re-register at this time. You will have to go to a place of registration in your community when voter registration re-opens on November 10.

We are absolutely delighted to offer this convenient and painless way to update your records. With the success of programs like this, Lake County may very well be the first county in Illinois to have all their voters registered on the uniform card. And that will be quite an accomplishment.

Mrs. Republican

She's also at the polls every election, bringing sweet rolls for the workers starting at 6 a.m. And she is still there until after closing to watch the ballots being counted. She is home by 8 p.m. to watch her favorite television program.

"Today is not like the days when we had paper ballots," Wood recalls. "The election my husband beat out Ed Anderson for congressman we counted ballots until 7 o'clock in the morning."

For this Wood has received few accolades. Maybe that is because almost everyone in the Lake County Republican Party knows who she is and can both call on and count on her.

Still, she is proud of a certificate received several years ago for being among the longest-serving GOP party workers. In 1987 she was honored by the Avon Town Republican Club for her years in the party vineyard with the coveted Elephant of the Year Award.

Between elections Wood spends time at First Church of Christ Scientist in Waukegan. This has been her religion since 1918.

Sports Briefs

Football finales

Some final notes on the 1988 football season, which ended Saturday for all teams who are not Carmel or Richmond-Burton.

Strength of schedule is what makes or breaks the hundreds of 6-3 teams in the state. "There are 163 6-3 teams right now," the Round Lake High public address announcer said as the Panthers edged Marengo 16-14. And if you think the Northwest Suburban Conference is weak this year, you're right. While the Big Eight, North Suburban, East Suburban Catholic Conference all received three entries into the coveted six-class playoff system, the NWSC only got one - champion Marian Central. Last year Lake Zurich joined the Hurricanes in post-season play.

The area's two rookie coaches- Dell Pechauer of Antioch and Hap Farlow of Johnsburg can chalk up '88 as a learning experience as the two were a combined 3-12. Pechauer would seem to have more hope of immediate success, as the Sequoits were the best 3-6 team in the county. All of the six losses were by less than 10 points.

Numbers don't lie department: on the one hand, the stingiest defense award goes to Zion-Benton, who surrendered only 33 points all year en route to a NSC title. Johnsburg, on the other hand, gave up 302.

NMSU honors Rowden

Grant High School wrestling Coach Don Rowden will be inducted into the Northeast Missouri State University Hall of Fame on Nov. 5. Rowden will be among 12 former Bulldogs so honored at the NMSU football home game.

Rowden was a member of two football teams at the Kirksville, MO school that captured league championships. He earned most valuable player honors as a linebacker in 1965 and was co-MVP on the first wrestling team in 1965-66.

Condell sponsors run

Corporations and institutions are invited to send teams of runners to compete in the Condell Memorial Hospital's Corporate Challenge on Nov. 5.

The deadline for enterees in the race is Nov. 4. The entry fee is $5 a person. The race will begin at 9 a.m., at Highland School, Rockland Rd. and Stewart Ave. in Libertyville. A minimum of five runners will be competing as a team.

Race packets may be obtained at the hospital's public relations and marketing departments until Nov. 4- between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

CLC kickers advance

College of Lake County soccer team will be trying for a Region IV title when it travels to Triton on Nov. 4.

The Lancers earned the right for the title bid with a 1-0 win over DuPage at home last week. Brad Novak scored the winning goal, in the second overtime, some 22 seconds before shootout. Mike Whers was given credit for the assist.

The goal was scored off a second attempt at a shot.

Goalie Mark Surprise posted a shutout. Coach Dave Beck said he received excellent help from defensemen Bryan Webster, Brian Scott, Scott Winter and Leland Burbank.

'Better players' lead 6-3 Corsairs to first-ever playoff appearance

Like he has been since the first day of football practice in August, Carmel football Coach Mike Fitzgibbons was clear and to the point.

"Better players," he answered simply when asked the difference between this year's playoff-qualifying Carmel contingent and others.

"These kids have worked real hard," Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel, 6-3, made the playoff cutoff for Class 5a by just four points. A season finale 21-13 loss to St. Patrick's made life a little tense around the Mundelein school as the Corsairs waited for word from the IHSA.

"We were sure we had 39 points and when East (Waukegan) beat Highland Park we knew we had 40. But you never know for sure," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs battled undefeated and North Suburban Conference champion Zion-Benton in their first playoff game ever at CHS. The winner of that contest advances to the second round of the IHSA playoffs and will face the winner of the Deerfield-Wheeling game Nov. 5.

While this was Carmel's maiden voyage to the post-season playoff party, two old pros who know each other inside and out by now locked horns in Class 2a. Richmond-Burton and Marian Central, both with records of 8-1, clashed at Marian Central. The winner of the annual battle which will face the Mendota-Harvard winner Nov. 5.

The Corsairs were led in Fitzgibbons' third season at the helm by the one-two punch of star running back Matt Simmons and quarterback Thad Sutter. Simmons, a senior from Zion, made his presence felt early in the season when he scored twice in a season-opening win over Waukegan.

East. Simmons would score a touchdown against each of the next eight opponents, raising his total to 15 by year's end.

Simmons ended the regular season with a one touchdown, 65 yard night in 20 attempts.

Sutter was seven for 17 for 139 yards to finish the regular campaign 51 for 121 pass attempts for 1,105 yards and nine touchdowns.

"He explodes so quick into the hole and he is so fast and strong," Fitzgibbons said of Simmons.

The defense was led by an opportunistic secondary led by identical twin safeties Ricky and Randy Splitt. Don Anderson, who was injured against St. Pats, provided a consistent punting attack as well as being one of the top receivers.

St. Patrick beat the Corsairs at their own game at Mundelein last week. Mark Figueroa scored two of the winners' three

CLC spikers prepare for sectionals

College of Lake County's volleyball team will be hoping to pick off where the Lancers left off in their own sectional tournament on Nov. 4.

CLC will face rival Elgin Community College in the first match. McHenry and Harper will battle in the first round with the winners advancing to the sectional final. The top two teams advance to the sectional level at Rock Valley.

"Everybody was up and doing their jobs," CLC volleyball Coach Diane VanderKooy said.

The Lancers finished the tourney by winning 10 of 12 games. McHenry was second at 9-3 and host Elgin was third at 7-5.

CLC opened the tourney with a 15-12, 15-2 win over Wright. CLC then downed Oakton 15-5, 15-13 but lost to Waubesa 15-13, 17-15. The Lancers then beat Elgin 16-14, 15-10.

CLC's Kerry Wilson and Sherry Waldroup were named to the all-tournament team.

The strong finish at the Skyway Conference meet boosted the Lancers final finish in the league to second place.

"We were hitting down the line and attacking. Before the tournament, I said the only way you will win it is if you attack," VanderKooy said.

The Lancers were coming off nonconference losses to Highland and Triton before the Skyway Conference title.

touchdowns on the night. St. Pats built a 21-6 lead and then held back a serious second half challenge by the Corsairs.

Figueroa established himself early as the weapon to stop. He scored on a one-yard run in the first quarter and the extra point made it 7-0.

A long Carmel drive ended when Simmons plunged over from the one and Alden Zemlich added the extra point for the 21-13 final.

"This is a great community. A lot of what we have done is because of them," Fitzgibbons said.

Zion-Benton, in addition to its well known stingy defense was no slouch on offense, either. The ZeeBees were led by QB Gary Scott along with running back Donald Farmer. The closest any NSC team came to knocking off Zion was Antioch, who lost 13-6 when Scott was not eligible.

College of Lake County's women's cross country team is preparing to vie for a top 10 national ranking when the Lancers travel to Twin Falls, Idaho for the national junior college meet.

The Lancers qualified for the meet by capturing first place honors in the sectional held at Skokie last week. CLC finished with 18 points and the entire team will be heading west for the Nov. 12 meet.

Workmanlike 'Devils capture regional championship

No one will ever accuse Warren Twp. High School coach Chris Woodard of being the Bobby Knight of volleyball.

"I try and stay calm and keep my cool. I'm not an emotional yeller or screamer. I think the team picks up on that. It's very important to the team to keep their poise," Woodard said.

Warren kept its cool throughout, not letting a slow 5-0 deficit slow them down. There would be the comeback and plenty of time for celebration later - after Warren Athletic Dir. Mike Kunkle handed Woodard the regional title trophy.

In their own regional championship match, the Blue Devils to the early deficit against Waukegan West with a barrage of 21 straight points to knock off Waukegan West 15-5, 15-9.

The very blue collar Blue Devils, with a workmanlike record of 12-9, advanced to the Mundelein sectional seeking revenge against Round Lake. The Panthers had defeated the Blue Devils handily in a non-conference match earlier this season.

Warren's players and fans could be forgiven if they thought it might be a long night in Gurnee when West started the game one with five straight points by Regina Nixon.

Lydia Gonzalez, a senior, started Warren's 21-point romp with a point. The Blue Devils took over the momentum from there and gained the lead for good on an ace by Gonzalez for a 6-5 margin. Melissa Webster, another senior, ended the game one blitz with a kill down the line for the 15-5 margin.

Senior Jan Jahnke started game two with three straight aces and six service points as Warren led 6-0. The Raiders refused to give up, though, and it stayed 7-3 for several sideouts.

An ace by 4-10 setter Steph Williams put the 'Devils back in command.

The Raiders did come to within four at 12-8 but Warren recovered and won 15-10.

The Blue Devils were playing without junior Heather Olejak, who sprained an ankle earlier.

Woodard complimented the play of junior fill-in Karen Planey.

The Blue Devils, prior to the regional title, knocked off Waukegan East. After losing the first game 15-6, Warren bounced back to win 15-9, 15-2.

"After the first game it looked like we were ready to pack our bag but a couple of people got hot serving," Woodard said.

Woodard praised the play of seniors Melissa Webster, Jahnke and Gonzalez. "They've really come through for us," Woodard said.

Previously, the Blue Devils finished fifth in the NSC tourney. "I was pretty happy, after the dual meet season, to hang onto fifth," Woodard said.

Patriots, Panthers teach foes valuable lessons

Stevenson and Round Lake taught their opponents two different types of lessons in the opening round of the Mundelein sectional volleyball tournament. Stevenson showed Carmel that just because you upset a rival in the regional final, that does not secure sectional success. Round Lake, in the second match, showed Warren the importance of "playing until the whistle blows". Both teams won in two games with the Patriots zapping Carmel 15-0, 15-5 and Round Lake beating back Warren 15-13, 15-10. "I did not expect it to be that easy.

Everybody played well," Stevenson Coach Bob Schenk, whose club improved to 34-2, said.

Schenk said a key element going into the match was not letting the Carmel crowd become a factor. "If we let their crowd get into the game its like playing against another player," Schenk said.

The Corsairs were held to just a handful of serves in the first game. Senior Amy Ostrem led the way with six kills and Kim Johnson had five.

Team effort of Corsairs wins first regional crown

When defeating Libertyville in regional competition in their home gym, the effort given by the Carmel Corsair volleyball team came together.

The Corsairs knocked off the highly-touted Wildcats (25-7) two games in a row by the same score, 15-12, to the delight of screaming fans who witnessed school history being made -- their first-ever regional crown.

After junior Trisha Johnson killed a bad Libertyville pass to put the Wildeats away, fans, students and parents flooded onto the floor to join the celebration, and lingered in discussing the match long afterward.

There were many high points to jaw about, such as the Corsairs' fine serving. Three Carmel servers delivered first-serve aces in jumping out to an 8-0 lead, and a pair of aces by Patty Migely that hit the floor before any Wildeat could touch them sealed the first-game win for Carmel. Michelle Muellner had numerous blocks for kills in leading a shorter but determined Carmel squad.

Throughout the year, the young Corsair team -- three sophomores, seven juniors and three seniors -- found it took time to get down their setting patterns and defensive strategies. But against Libertyville, the sets and passes were accurate, and other skills were displayed much better as well, Coach Jo Gerardi said.

Playing as a team and being unified is their strength, according to Gerardi. They don't have any one outstanding individual, even though the play of Muellner has gained a lot of ink lately, she said. The level of contribution is uniform throughout the squad, and the team's togetherness was evident against Libertyville, Gerardi said.

"They were very confident and very calm. I'm very proud of them, to tell the truth," said Gerardi.

But don't get the idea that Carmel is complacent. "They can be very feisty. They're scrappy," Gerardi said.

This quality has been an asset, and Carmel has played tough against a lot of tough teams this year, she noted. "It's been a slow growing year," Gerardi noted after the Libertyville game gave them a 11-11 mark.

Although she has coached teams with more talent in her nine years at Carmel, this squad may prove to be her best finisher. "This is a dream team as far as what they've done," Gerardi said.

Lakeland's Winter Auto Care

Winter checklist

When the mercury drops to levels far below freezing, medical experts issue warnings about the potential health dangers. While people need the advice to take necessary precautions, it becomes obvious how vulnerable man really is. Car owners also need to realize that their car is vulnerable as well. This is evidenced by the tens of thousands of people whose cars fail them on that first cold morning.

Most of these emergencies should not be attributed to the weather but, instead, to neglected mechanical maintenance. Car failure can be avoided by basic preventive measures. Here is a checklist for cold weather dependability.

★ Battery. Make sure the battery is fully charged. If not, either the battery or charging system may need attention.

★ Cooling System. Check to see if the anti-freeze is still strong enough to provide protection against freezing. See if belts and hoses are O.K. The thermostat and pressure cap should be functioning properly.

★ Engine. Time for a tune-up? The best battery cannot start an engine that needs maintenance. Malfunctioning emission controls are found to be a cause of erratic engine operation in cold weather.

★ Oil and Filter. An engine with dirty oil won't turn over as easily on a cold morning. Oil and filter should be changed as part of seasonal service.

★ Tires. Avoid trouble by going into winter with good tires, properly balanced and aligned.

★ Brakes. For safe, smooth stopping, check brakes before ice and snow cover roads.

★ Lights. All lights, including flashers, should be checked; burned out bulbs replaced.

★ Windshield Wipers. Replace worn blades, ideally with winter blades which repel ice and snow. Keep a spare jug of windshield washer fluid in the trunk.

★ Inside the Trunk. How's the spare tire? Make sure the spare is in good repair. Check the jack and carry a windshield scraper.

Any car should start and run dependably in even the coldest of temperatures (sometimes with the help of auxiliary heaters for frigid starting), but the decisive factor between "go" and "no go" usually is preventive maintenance.

Save money with winter retreads

Economy-minded motorists can save important money on tire purchases without sacrificing safety and comfort. The way is with retreads.

• Retreads are extremely well suited for light trucks, 4x4's and recreational vehicles. They are used on school and municipal buses, police vehicles, racing cars, taxi's, airplanes, trucks, and federal and military vehicles.

• Retreads make great snow tires. In fact, more retreaded snow tires are sold than new snow tires.

• Retreads are absolutely as safe as comparable new tires, and can be driven at the same speeds as comparable new tires. They are processed according to Federal Safety Standards.

• Retreads are available in high performance sizes in all tread designs, including all season designs.

• With proper maintenance and care, retreads can give the same mileage as new tires, and they look just like new tires.

It's a good idea to comparison shop for retreaded tires and to ask for a written warranty.

Once retreads are installed on the car, be certain wheels are properly aligned and check tire pressure regularly to add miles to the life of the tires.

KEEP YOUR COOL ON ICE

GO EASY ON THE GAS WHEN ONE WHEEL IS SPINNING ON ICE OR SNOW. THE SPINNING WHEEL ACTUALLY IS GOING DOUBLE SPEEDOMETER SPEED, POSSIBLY FAST ENOUGH TO CAUSE THE TIRE TO FLY APART.

DOCK GENTLY BETWEEN DRIVE & REVERSE. EXCESSIVE STRESS OVERHEATS THE TRANSMISSION. CHECK TRANSMISSION FLUID AFTER STRENUOUS USE. IF IT SMELLS BURNED & AND HAS TURNED BROWN PROTECT VITAL PARTS BY REPLACING FLUID & FILTER.

FIGHT COLD SYMPTOMS

EVER WONDER WHY YOUR CAR IS SO SLOW TO START IN COLD WEATHER? ONE REASON IS THAT YOUR BATTERY GROWS WEAKER AS THE THERMOMETER DROPS. FULL POWER AT 80° F. HAS DROPPED TO 65% AT FREEZING AND ONLY 40% AT ZERO.

A BATTERY CHECK-UP IS THE BEST WAY TO BE CERTAIN YOUR BATTERY IS FULLY CHARGED. A BATTERY THAT'S WEAK TO BEGIN WITH WILL EVEN FURTHER REDUCE YOUR CHANCES OF GETTING STARTED.

AND IF YOUR CAR NEEDS A TUNE-UP YOU'RE REALLY ASKING FOR STARTING TROUBLE. THE CAR CARE COUNCIL ADVISES REPLACING A WORN BATTERY AND HAVING YOUR ENGINE TUNED BEFORE THE COLD WEATHER SETS IN.

Lakeland's Winter Auto Care

Inspect cooling system for pre-winter tune-up

Many motorists wait until the first cold snap to winterize their automobiles.

The result is usually a frantic phone call to their local service station mechanic who, by this time, is deluged already with time-consuming road calls for dead batteries, frozen radiators and various ignition ailments.

To make sure an engine will run properly when it's 10 below zero, follow these easy-to-perform winterizing tune-up for the car's cooling system, the cause of many cold weather driving problems.

• Examine all hoses, especially the radiator and heater hoses, for swelling, soft spots, cracks, a partially collapsed condition, cuts and general deterioration.

• Tighten all hose clamps. Replace those that can't be tightened adequately, or that show corrosion.

• Check all V-belts for wear on bottom and sides. Pay particular attention to the alternator drive. Replace or re-tension as necessary. If belts are more than four years old, replace them regardless of visual condition.

• Check the coolant for rust and the concentration of antifreeze.

system (about every two years) and replacing the coolant with a 50-50 mixture of water and antifreeze is a do-it-yourself job. While the cooling system is drained, this is also a good time to replace the upper and lower radiator hoses.

• Inspect the condition of the radiator cap gasket and spring. Check the radiator filler neck for nicks that could lead to a pressure loss.

• Clean bugs, leaves, paper and other foreign matter off the front of the radiator. Remove by spraying with water. This helps the flow of air through the radiator.

Long, slow warm-up will harm engine

A familiar scene on a cold morning is a car idling in a driveway with exhaust billowing from its tailpipe. In the house, the owner comfortably finishes a second cup of coffee. The car will be toasty warm when the time comes to take off for work.

The owner may justify this wasteful practice with the excuse that the car operates better when it is allowed to warm up before driving.

This is a fallacy. When the choke is set, as is the case when a cold engine is started and then left at a fast idle, the car is burning gas at a furious rate.

Engine wear is accelerated because raw fuel from the enriched mixture washes lubricating oil down the cylinder walls. This also contaminates the oil in the engine crankcase, further engine damage.

There is a greater tendency for spark plugs to foul under these conditions, too. The excessively rich mixture is an ideal environment for plug fouling.

Another consideration is the possibility of overheating the catalytic converter in the exhaust system. Unburned fuel in the exhaust is burned off in the converter.

If it gets hot enough, it could set something on fire, especially if the car is parked over a flammable substance which could ignite. The car itself could catch fire.

Forest Preserve Dist. appoints Trails Advisory Committee

The Lake County Forest Preserve District of Commissioners has approved the creation and appointment of a citizens Trails Advisory Committee. The committee will consist of one member representing each of the trail corridor user groups including, equestrian, hiking, cycling, snowmobiling, cross-country skiing and canoeing. The purpose of the committee will be to advise Board President Don Strenger on issues related to trail corridor planning and development from the perspective of those users of the corridor.

Four members from the Lakeland area have been appointed to the committee including: equestrian - Linda Taylor, Wadsworth; bicycling - Sue Ulrey, Libertyville; snowmobiling - Dale Nagle, Gurnee; and canoeing - Tom Ramsing, Barrington.

"The Lake County Forest Preserve has made a major commitment since 1962 to acquire land, especially along the Des Plaines River, that a high quality regional trail corridor system could be developed," said Strenger. "With Trail interest and use increasing dramatically in the past couple of years, it was felt that a Trail Advisory Committee could provide a valuable forum for input from day to day users on such trail related issues as trail access, user conflicts and specific user needs and requests," he added. Strenger believes this would also allow the district to present the planning challenge it faces in trying to develop a multiple use trail corridor. "We must balance natural resource protection and the demands to supply recreational opportunities with limited development and operational funding," Strenger said.

no match for holding this volume of water, and the result has often been up to 50,000 square miles of flooded land.

The other extreme of precipitation can be just as damaging. Deserts in northern Africa encroach into grassland an additional six miles each year. By the year 2000, Fornos said, the additional desert land will cover an area one-and-one-half times the size of the United States.

On top of all of this, the Greenhouse Effect has made each successive year in this decade the hottest on record. By the year 2020 we can look forward to an earth with the average, overall temperature being 4.5 degrees hotter than it is now, Fornos said. This would melt polar icecaps and raise the sea level about 16 feet along both coasts of the United States. This could make whole third world countries literally disappear, Fornos said.

There already is a "hole" in the ozone layer over Antarctica, Fornos said, and this could shift locations to a populated area. And the damage stands to become worse, Fornos said, since the chemical pollution to blame takes 15 years to rise to the ozone layer. This means that all these chemicals pumped into the atmosphere since 1973 have not yet done their worst.

In spite of all this evidence, the United States is the only country to ban things such as aerosol spray cans which spread this type of pollution, Fornos said. What is needed is to ban all such products, including styrofoam containers, which are "non-essential," he said.

If people don't heed his warning now, maybe they will if the estimate proves true of an additional 2 million cases of skin cancer in the United States by year 2010, Fornos said.

Still, all is not lost, Fornos noted. But it will take 10 to 15 years of international effort to rectify the environmental problems man has created. "Serious course corrections" must take place across the globe involving actions such as overpumping of water from lakes, and overplowing of farm land. Also, there is a dire need to plant 2 billion trees annually, Fornos said.

The onus is on young people, who today number 3 billion, the same number as the world's population as recently as 1960, Fornos said. Family planning -- not including abortion -- is a must, he added, saying that third world women have begged their governments to provide birth control methods. Currently, these women "lack accurate information and means to do anything about it," Fornos said of burgeoning populations.

When ominous issues confront people, they tend to look away, Fornos said. However, as caretakers of the planet, people cannot look away any longer, he warned.

Governor appoints Holway to council

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Enjoy new endeavors.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Entertaining new friends is not wise at this time. Stick with tried and true methods. Use your intuition regarding financial and business matters.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A newcomer does not have your best interests at heart, but you can deal with this person knowing this. Important letters are headed your way soon.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Treat yourself to a shopping spree, but don't be too extravagant. A mental picture of someone from your past is haunting you, but this should clear soon.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Do not give any advice at this time, but receive any you get from elders with open ears. A true friend will be willing to give you some help if you need it.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) The summons to attend a family gathering is headed your way; it is important to be there. Journeys that take you far from home are advised now.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Romance figures heavily in your social and business lives now. Keep your feelings in check. A wise adviser has plentiful financial ideas for you.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Be wise, and don't go running off without settling office or home affairs. You are long overdue for a new look, so spruce yourself up for the holidays.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Don't be surprised if a financial windfall hits you. This pleasant surprise is due to an error on someone else's part. Be with those friends you trust.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) A time-consuming problem will soon be gone. Avoid making major decisions regarding your personal life. Postpone any family meetings now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You need, but do not want, time away from friends and family, so seek refuge in a place where you can be introspective and do some thinking.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You must overcome that nagging problem, and you must do it yourself. Seeking advice is not wise now, since it will steer you away from goals.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A close family member will need your help, so be there for this person. A junket to your favorite place is well-deserved and should commence soon.

If you were born this week, you're the type who sets short-term goals and meets most of them. Your idea of long-term goals, however, is almost non-existent. You must pace yourself through life to achieve the maximum potential you desire of yourself. Attaining a new car or boat isn't a long-term goal, a happy, long-lasting marriage is!

THE LAST THING YOU NEED IN 1988 IS A NEW JOB

(The First Thing You Should Do Is Call Wendy's)

1988 is coming to an end. We're only 8 weeks away. If you're a lot further away when it comes to the goals and the objectives you had at your current job, why not talk to Wendy's right now.

We've had a fantastic year. And we're hiring to keep pace throughout the North Shore Area. We're hiring for Waukegan, Arlington Heights, North Chicago, Round Lake, Libertyville, Deerfield, Mundelein—everywhere.

If you have been disappointed with your growth as a manager in the retail, restaurant or a related customer service industry, we invite you to make a change.

Management responsibility at Wendy's is really something else. It's inventory control. It's labor relations. It's P & L planning. It's leadership. It's great training, great benefits, great potential for advancement. It's everything you thought management should be.

1988? It doesn't have to be a total loss. In fact, it may be the best year you ever had. Make a switch to Wendy's now.

Forward your resume or call collect: Tom Brown, Wendy's International Inc., 2514 S. 102 Street, Suite 120, Milwaukee, WI 53227, 414-321-9400.

KODIAK

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 68'-0" x 54'-0"
LIVING: 2748 square feet
GARAGE: 552 square feet
COVERAGE: 2513 square feet

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

By Landmark Designs

The Kodiak is notable for its variety of social spaces. A formal dining room off the entry; a conversation pit in front of the dining room fireplace; a family room open to the kitchen; an upstairs study/recreation loft-no part of the house is far from a congenial open space where people can mingle and talk. In addition, the recreation room serves as a conning deck, overlooking the vaulted entry, the dining room, and fire pit.

With company gone, a family in the Kodiak will probably congregate in the smaller spaces. A dinette at one end of the walk-through kitchen will serve for daily informal meals. Alternatively, family members can pick up meals on the run from a bar facing the large family room.

If the Kodiak is a very sociable house, it also can offer substantial privacy. The second floor can almost be considered a separate suite, with two bedrooms sharing a semi-private bath. Instead of furnishing the loft as an all-house rec room, that space can be considered a study for school-age children living upstairs.

Heads of the house can retreat to the master suite on the main floor, which comes complete with private bathroom, spa tub, walk-in closet, and an exercise room opening into a private back court.

The self-sufficiency of the Kodiak's two floors means that the home can contract as children grow up and leave the nest. The 1700 square-foot main floor provides a complete home for a couple, so that the upstairs can essentially be "mothballed," or converted to other uses than sleeping quarters.

For a study plan of the Kodiak (288-02), send $5.00 to: Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Dist. 46 actors combine talents for first production

"Stuff and Nonsense!" a Grayslake Elementary Dist. 46 Schools production marks the first all-school production since the merger of Grayslake and Avon School Dist. on July 1.

The show is a loosely organized collection of poetry, jokes, skits and African folk tale. The cast is comprised of students in grades five through eight from Lakeview, Avon and Grayslake Junior High Schools.

"Producing this show presented some unique challenges," said director Patrick

Kerr, a Grayslake Junior High teacher. Kerr has directed some past Avon productions such as "Alice in Wonderland" and "Tom Sawyer". "Finding a common rehearsal time which would permit the greatest number of students from each school to participate was complicated," he said.

Apparently, the challenge was successfully met. More than 40 students are involved on stage with supporting positions offstage taken by a number of other students.

"We're confident that the community will be anxious to support this year's production by attending at least one of the performances," Supt. David Duffy said.

Two Grayslake businesses, Hooks Lumber and True Value Hardware have shown their support by providing some of the materials needed to build the set for the play.

Show times for the opening Nov. 4 performance is 7:30 p.m., a Saturday matinee is set at 3 p.m. and an evening curtain at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the performances are $2.50 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and $1.50 for students through high school.

ORTHOTIC DEVICES

Injuries and diseases aren't the only causes of foot problems. A podiatrist may find the cause is a deviation that interferes with normal foot performance. Flat or excessively arched feet are examples. So is ankle movement that makes the foot pronate, or roll inward, while walking.

Orthotic devices are a means of correcting the way the foot works, sometimes by redistributing the weight placed on the foot or by preventing it from rolling inward.

To provide a customized device, the podiatrist first makes a plaster cast of the foot and the device then is molded to the right shape and size to serve in a particular area between the shoe and the foot. Some orthotic devices are made from natural materials, such as rubber or cork, and some from plastic or other synthetic materials.

ELECT

Bob "Guess" Gesiakowski State Senator

" The Election For State Senator In the 31st District, is No Longer A Contest Between Two Individuals Or Personalities. It Is Now A Referendum On The Abuses Of Double Dipping! "

An Important Message To The Taxpayers Of:

Waukegan, North Chicago, Winthrop Harbor, Zion, Wadsworth, Russell, Gurnee, Millburn, Lindenhurst, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Lake Villa, and Antioch.

JUST SAY NO TO GEO. AND YES TO GUESS !!

Dear Friends,
Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis is far and away, one of the most popular politicians in Northern Illinois. As I have campaigned throughout the District, when I told people, I was running against Adeline, they smiled, or snickered, or often times laughed, as if to say, you must be crazy. You don't even stand a chance. If the election were simply a popularity contest, they would be right. Adeline is better known, has better name recognition, and a lot more money, then I can afford to spend to get elected. Everybody loves Adeline. The fact of the matter is, I admire and respect her accomplishments, also. Acknowledging all those facts, this time, Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis, is wrong, and must be opposed. Somebody has to do it, and I have accepted that challenge.

In the race for State Senator in the 31st District, Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis, is THE ISSUE. It's nothing personal. The fact is, Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis, is a Double Dipper, who is flagrantly violating the principles of the separation of powers, as written into the U.S. Constitution. Most people know that Adeline Geo Karis, is the State Senator in the 31st District, and the Mayor of Zion. What most people don't know, is that Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis, is also the Village Attorney, for the Village of Vernon Hills. As Mayor of Zion, she represents the Executive Branch of Government. As Senator, she represents the Legislative Branch, and as Attorney for the Village of Vernon Hills, she acts as an officer of the court, and represents the Judicial Branch.

Any 8th Grade student, can tell you, this is Wrong, Wrong, Wrong! When our forefathers, the Framers of the Constitution made provisions, for the separation of the three branches of Government, they never intended for ONE person, to serve in all three branches at once. Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis, may be the only person in U.S. History, to derive an income from the tax payers, in all three branches of government, at the same time. That's not just Double Dipping, that's Triple Dipping!!

I believe that serving as Mayor, in a town inside the same Senate District, is a conflict of interest. For example: If the City of Zion, has a dispute with the City of Waukegan, or the Village of Round Lake Beach, who's interest will she serve? Will she be more concerned about her own community, Zion, at the expense of the other towns and villages?

If you live in Waukegan, North Chicago, Winthrop Harbor, Russell, Wadsworth, Gurnee, Millburn, Lindenhurst, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Lake Villa or Antioch, you have to ask yourself that question. Now, let's talk about you, your right to vote, and this election. Your right to vote is sacred, and the one thing that makes our democracy, the greatest form of government on earth. It is your vote, that makes ours, a Government of the People. And it is only with your vote, that you have any say at all, in how you are governed.

Your right to vote however, is also an obligation and responsibility. Government only works well, when you make it respond to your needs. If you don't vote, and something is wrong, you have lost your right, to complain about the system. Your vote is your only way, to send a clear message to those in power, or to those who abuse their power.

The election for State Senator in the 31st District, is no longer a contest between two individuals, or personalities. It is now a referendum on the abuses of Double Dipping!

I believe that Double dipping is wrong. I believe that Double Dipping is unfair to all taxpayers. I believe that if a person is elected to more than one position, that person should choose the position in which he, or she, wishes to serve, and give up the other.

I sincerely believe that there are many talented and capable people in Lake County, who would be willing to serve, if they had half a chance. I also believe, that two heads are better than one!

We have too many Double Dippers in Lake County, and you as a taxpayer, are being ripped off. It's your money, however, it's also your vote! When you go to vote on Tuesday, don't think in terms of party affiliation, or popularity, or friendships. You must think as a taxpayer. You must think of your pocket book.

This may very well be, your last chance to have a say in this matter. It's up to You!

If Mayor/Senator Adeline Geo Karis is re-elected, you, as a taxpayer, will never again be able to complain about Double Dipping. Cast your vote on this important issue. Let your voice be heard. It's time to, Just Say, "NO to Geo!"

As a candidate for State Senator, I am unknown to many of you. I have no wealthy or popular relations or friends to recommend me. None-the-less, my name, Bob "Guess" Gesiakowski, is on the ballot, and you will have a choice.

I need, and am asking for your support, so that I may help and serve you.

If elected, when I go to Springfield to represent you in the Senate, I pledge to you that one of my major goals, will be to work for the enactment and passage of legislation to stop the abuses of all Double Dippers.

On Tuesday, all I ask is your consideration and one moment of your time. The one moment that it takes. To vote for Bob "Guess" Gesiakowski, for State Senator.

Please give me, that one moment. Punch #105.

Thank you and God Bless You.

Respectfully,
Bob "Guess" Gesiakowski

State Rep. Churchill defends stance on senior citizens

Instead of being a "foe" of senior citizens as rated by a state organization and promoted by his opponent, state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) says he is a definite friend. He cites his voting record as speaking for itself on this.

A rating by the Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens attempts to show Churchill as voting for only one of 10 bills it said impacted seniors in the past year. The bills range from those affecting displaced homemakers to the need for an insurance guide, fixed utility rates, low-cost life-time phone service and low-cost prescription drugs. Legislators were rated by their votes in categories of "family" and "friend," the middle ones of "fair" or "faint hearted" and the bottom ranking of "foe." The Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens Organizations has a "truth drive" underway in Illinois to attack targeted legislators, Churchill said. He pointed out several areas of concern about the attack on his record. "Of the 5,000 to 6,000 bills the Legislature voted on in the past two years, at least 21 of these directly affected senior citizens," Churchill said. "I voted for every one of them."

"The ratings of this organization are highly partisan," Churchill said. "Only one Republican in the entire Illinois House received ratings above 50 percent in this year's survey and only three Democrats ranked below 50 percent. This attempt to turn the well-being of senior citizens into a partisan issue is something that is personally appalling and more than a little ridiculous."

"Second, of the 10 bills used in this rating for House members, only one directly affected senior citizens," the six-year state representative said. That had to do with low-cost prescription drugs. "Interestingly enough, many other important senior citizen measures were excluded from the ratings."

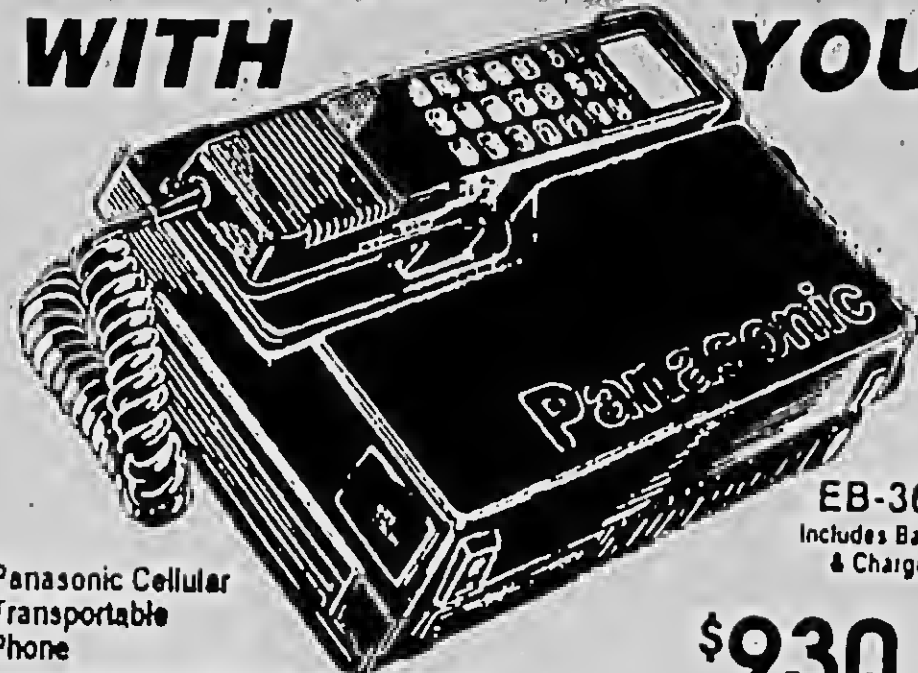

"Third, this organization is closely tied to another controversial liberal Democratic group, the Illinois Public Action Council (IPAC). Both share the same Chicago office. The listed phone number is the same for both. I have been unable to find any instance in which the IPAC has endorsed any Republican running for public office."

"Unfortunately, there is virtually no way to prevent any group from using titles such as 'senior citizens' or 'public action' in its name," the Republican minority whip said.

As a key voting bloc in today's society, Churchill said he is aware of both the power and plight of senior citizens. "I have consistently supported their needs in the Legislature," he said.

Look for registrars on election day

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess has announced that volunteer registrars will be manning the polls throughout Lake County to help voters get "re-registered" on election day.

"Eventually all Lake County voters will have to transfer their voter registration cards to the new uniform card," said Hess, so that every voter in the State of Illinois will be on the same uniform card."

"As we did in March, we will have deputy voter registrars from a number of Lake County civic organizations at specific polling places to re-register voters. If your polling place is one of those set up to take re-registration, check your voter identification card to see if it's a blue one. If it's not, you were registered under the old system, and you should stop by one of these tables to get your records updated.

"We want to stress that this updating of your records is entirely voluntary. And it can only be done for people who vote on election day. If you are ineligible to vote because you moved or had a name change, you may not re-register at this time," explained Hess.

"WE ARE LAKE COUNTY"

Annual report shows improvement for CLC

The 1987-88 annual report for the College of Lake County targets five areas in which the college has responded to a community need.

The first outlines ways the college has responded to a changing workforce by offering new or expanded curriculum to meet the education and training needs of Lake County. In addition, the college offers services for employers through the Procurement Assistance Center and Small Business Development Center, both state-funded programs, to help build a healthier local economy.

Another feature focuses on efforts to promote minority student success. With national statistics showing a fall-off in the numbers of minority students advancing to higher education, CLC was involved in a program to encourage minority high school students to continue their education and develop the skills and self-esteem to help them succeed there.

In the area of transfer education, the report outlines the success of CLC transfer students. As public universities cap enrollments and raise tuition or both, increasing numbers of students are starting their degrees at CLC. Transfer student enrollment increased by 21 percent for fall

With nearly 60 percent female enrollment, CLC has attuned itself to the social and career needs of women preparing for the workforce. College efforts include flexible class scheduling, extending Child Care Center hours into the evening and encouragement to consider nontraditional (and often better paying) occupations.

The report also addressed what CLC President Daniel LaVista termed a "quiet service"--English as a second language class. Serving 550 students in 1985-86, last year nearly 1300 students benefitted from the program.

The financial aspect of the report illustrated the college's bleak financial condition. With shortfalls in state funding, inflationary pressures and unexpected cutbacks in revenue, the college is currently operating at close to a $1 million dollar deficit, with deficits of up to $10 million projected by 1994. In fiscal year 1988, CLC expenditures increased by only 2.4 percent over the previous year, while revenues showed a 2.2 percent increase. At other Illinois community colleges, spending increased from eight to 13 percent.

Elks sponsor scholarships

The Elks Natl. Foundation is offering $2,000 grants to students planning to pursue associate degrees, certificates or diplomas (but less than baccalaureate degrees) in postsecondary vocational/technical programs.

A total of 287 grants, providing $1,000 for each of the two years, will be awarded with at least one winner per state. Although graduating high school seniors are eligible to apply, older students who desire training or re-training are also encouraged to submit applications.

Applications are available from the College of Lake County's Financial Aid office (call (312)223-6601, ext. 610) or local lodges of the B.P.O. Elks. The applications, which are submitted to the student's local Elks Lodge, are due Nov. 25. Each state's applications will be judged by a panel selected by the Assn. of Community College Trustees (ACCT).

CURB OVER-DEVELOPMENT

Political Action Committee Asks:

ARE YOU

- Fed Up With Over Development?
- Sick Of Our Trees Being Chainsawed?
- Outraged Seeing Farms Covered With Asphalt?
- Furious Over Traffic Congestion?
- Enraged By Soaring Taxes?

YOU

CAN STOP THE DESTRUCTION OF LAKE COUNTY BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE!

C.O.D. endorses the following environmentally concerned candidates

LAKE COUNTY BOARD		STATE REPRESENTATIVES
Millicent Berliant	Dist. 1	Grace Mary Stern	Dist. 58
*Audrey Nixon	Dist. 2	William E. Peterson	Dist. 60
*Debra Halas	Dist. 2	*John Matijevich	Dist. 61
Bertha Ogrin	Dist. 3	Grant Farrell	Dist. 62

"We ain't makin' no more land."

"Unless politicians wise-up real fast and control growth the citizens are going to do it through the ballot box."
Evelyn Munn
